

DIAZ TO BE SHOT AND HIS SOLDIERS TO BE DECAPITATED

President Madero to Show No
Mercy to Vera Cruz Rebels.

CITY WAS EASILY CAPTURED

Followers of Diaz Refused to Fire on Government Troops—About 100
Killed and Wounded.

Vera Cruz, Mexico, October 23.—The revolt of General Felix Diaz, nephew of the exiled president, has been short-lived. The town of Vera Cruz, which has been occupied by about 2,000 adherents for several days, was captured by the federal forces today. The casualties were few. Two federal columns, commanded by Colonel Jimenez Castro and General Joaquin Beltran, entered Vera Cruz from the north and south.

There was slight opposition to their advance. Colonel Castro, with less than fifty men, captured General Felix Diaz, whose 300 men at police headquarters refused to fire at his command. The revolutionists in the barracks have not yet surrendered. They say they will hold out until the last man is killed. However, the weaker spirits seem to be trying to escape. The killed and wounded number less than 100.

No Foreigner Was Wounded. No foreigner was hurt. Desultory firing continued after the federal entered the town. Instead of a great battle, everything was in a muddle. Rebels and federals encountered each other in the streets without one knowing which side the other was affiliated with, as uniforms of all were alike.

Colonel Jimenez Castro was shot in the leg during the first firing. Colonel Jose Diaz Ordaz, of the Twenty-first infantry, who joined General Diaz with his troops in the revolution, has disappeared, but an active search for him is being made.

The rebel officers have been made prisoners. It is believed they will be ordered shot by summary court-martial. It is announced the soldiers will not be punished.

The United States cruiser Des Moines sent Lieutenant Burns and Passed Assistant Surgeon Cohn ashore to attend the wounded.

GEN. DIAZ AND HIS OFFICERS TO SUFFER DEATH PENALTY

Mexico City, October 23.—General Felix Diaz, Colonel Jose Diaz Ordaz and all officers of the rebellious troops and marines will be hanged immediately before a court-martial and doubtless will suffer the death penalty. Orders have been issued for containing the court, which will be presided over by General Beltran. General Diaz, although not now a member of the army, is amenable in such court under the law which provides for trial of any civilian under like circumstances.

Soldiers of the rebellious troops will be decapitated—one in ten being executed. They will be chosen by lot to pay the penalty for all.

This information was imparted officially tonight.

The collapse of the Diaz movement one week after its inception with a minimum of fighting and bloodshed, has created the greatest surprise here. In administration circles, where optimism has been the keynote since the beginning of the outbreak is regarded as the highest possible vindication of the confidence always expressed in the loyalty of the army.

General Felix Diaz, after General Reyes, has been regarded as the man who could win the greatest influence with the army and the people generally. His rebellion ending in a fiasco only slightly less pronounced than that of Reyes last December removes a danger which has long loomed on the political horizon. News of the fall of Diaz created little demonstration in the capital.

DESPITE FALL OF VERA CRUZ MADERO IS FACING ORISIS

Washington, October 23.—In spite of the fall of Vera Cruz and the capture of General Diaz and his staff, late dispatches received here indicated that a spirit of unrest prevails and that the Madero government still faces the greatest crisis since the revolution broke out. Disappointment over the collapse of the Diaz movement is enhanced because of the popular approval with which the leader was hailed. Both in and out of Mexico General Diaz was looked upon by many as the master spirit who would bring order out of the chaos created by the successive revolts.

TURKEY-TROT DANCE FOR MARRIED ONLY

Official Recognition Will Be Given at Piedmont Driving Club

Tonight.

After having been under the social ban in Atlanta since its first introduction in the south and having suffered exclusion from the ball rooms of some of the best clubs in the city, the poor old turkey trot is at last to be recognized officially in the best circles of Atlanta's society.

The trot will be danced tonight at the Piedmont Driving Club as a ball to be given by, to and for married people exclusively. It will be danced in accordance with the rules of the International Turkey Trot Association.

Thus has the youth of the turkey trot been wasted in Atlanta, but it may be that, like wine and poetry, other such things which delight the senses of man, it grows sweeter with age.

"SHUN POLITICS" ADVICE IS GIVEN TO CLUB WOMEN

Mrs. Oilly Wants Federation
Unfettered by Parties.

EDUCATION IS DISCUSSED

Officers' Reports Show Splendid Growth and Widening of Activities of Federation.

"Shun politics" was the substance of the message delivered to the leading club women of Georgia Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. John K. Ottley, when she responded to the toast, "The Atlanta Woman's Club, the Mother of the Federation," at the luncheon tendered by this club to the visiting delegates to the state federation of clubs. "Unfettered by party lines, without the obligations which come as the result of such alignment, the club women of Georgia stand prepared to do a great work, and to accept the tremendous responsibilities thrust upon them," declared Mrs. Ottley, amid applause. She outlined the foundation of the Atlanta Woman's club, how it grew into the city federation, and how sixteen years ago its call extended to eleven clubs throughout the state, resulted in the first federation convention and gave life to the federation which now numbers thousands of members.

Keep Clear of Politics. "Stand to your organization," she entreated, "throw yourself into our work for civic betterment, for education, for the poor, and the federation will accomplish far more than if it mixed in political strife and labored for the success of any party."

Wednesday's sessions of the convention formed a conclusive answer to the question, "What is the purpose of the federated club movement?" for in the reports of the officers and in the detailed account of the varied activities of the 170 clubs in the federation was shown what has been accomplished during the past year. The feature address of the morning session was that of Miss Celeste Parrish, supervisor of rural schools in Georgia, and the feature address of the evening was that of Mrs. Percy Pennybacker, president of the general federation, her theme, "Home Duty Which Threatens the American Home."

The conference of club presidents and the executive board of the federation met at 9 o'clock and adjourned at 10 o'clock, when the morning session was opened by Dr. Daniel, Mrs. H. C. White, president of the delegates, most cordially, and called for the reports of officers of standing committees. They came in the following order: Mrs. Howard McCall, recording secretary; Mrs. E. H. Henson, Jr., corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. E. Hays, treasurer; Mrs. Max Nussbaum, auditor; Mrs. Bolling Jones, the general federation secretary; Mrs. J. P. McGovern, chairman credential committee.

The report of Mrs. Z. I. Fitzpatrick, vice president of the federation and chairman of the committee on club extension, was inspiring, setting forth the growth of the club movement in one's reports.

She was followed by the district vice presidents, who made their reports in the following order: Second, Mrs. H. H. Merry, Peiham; third, Mrs. T. J. Durrett, Cordele; fourth, Mrs. W. Trox Bankston, West Point; fifth, Mrs. Arthur G. Fowell, Atlanta; sixth, Mrs. Greene F. Johnson, Monticello; seventh, Mrs. Claude Ivey, Kingston; eighth, Mrs. W. E. Shepherd, Madison; ninth, Mrs. F. E. Shippen, Ellijay; eleventh, Mrs. L. Carter, Jessup; twelfth, Mrs. Louis L. Brown, Fort Valley.

The message of Miss Parrish. Miss Celeste Parrish brought the message of State Superintendent M. L. Brittain to the meeting, Mr. Brittain acknowledging at all times the practical and inspiring value of the work of the federated women in the interest of education.

Fruit culture, cattle raising and co-operative dairying should be taught in the rural schools, Miss Parrish stated, for first and foremost the best educational system taught its children to meet the needs of the community in which they were. There were many schools in Georgia not meeting these needs, said the speaker, as traditional education was "dying hard," for there were still those who believed that education was something shut up in a school separated from the outside community, instead of being a training which related directly to the community outside.

She commended the Georgia women for their helpfulness in the work of rationalizing the educational system, and begged that they urge the beautifying of schoolhouses and grounds.

The Tallulah School.

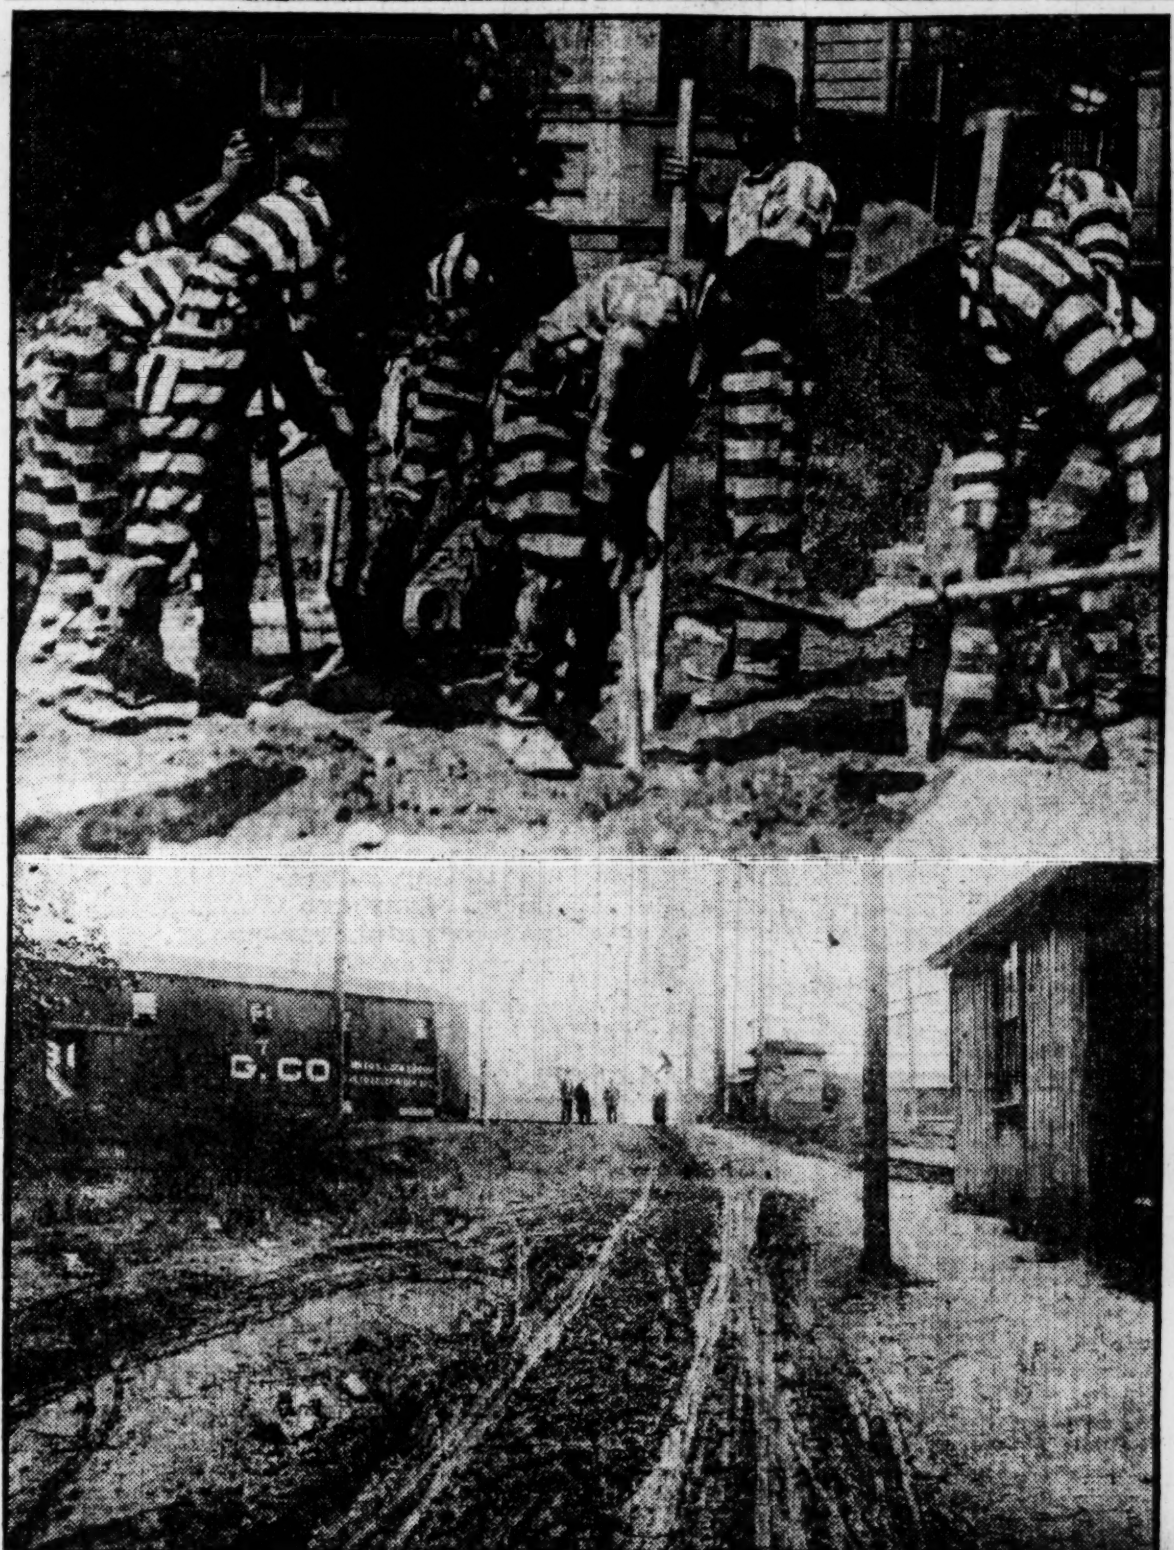

Mrs. M. A. Lipscomb, Mrs. John K. Ottley and Mrs. Tift told the beautiful story of the Federation Industrial School at Tallulah, which school being the only one which is owned or directed by any state federation.

"The school has in it at present sixty-four children of mountaineers, and thirteen of civil engineers," explained the director, and applause greeted the announcement that the Georgia Power company had not only lighted the school and furnished it with lighting equipment, but had recently lighted the street which leads from the school to the village.

Miss Mary Cresswell was warmly welcomed, coming with greetings from the 125 girls' canning clubs of Georgia. There are 2,000 girls belonging to these clubs, being fostered by the extension work of the College of

CITY PAVING WAY FOR COUNTY ON PEACHTREE; WORK ON MARIETTA STREET STRIKES A SNAG; WEST END TO GRANT PARK DRIVEWAY IS URGED

The top picture shows one of the convict squads which were put to work on West Baker street Wednesday morning. The bottom picture is a scene on Glenn street showing the Southern railroad crossing, which is stopping the construction of a driveway from West End to Grant Park.

Gas Company Completes Its Driveway Wanted by South Georgia Power Co. Must Move Work on East Baker Street Siders Will Be Big Improvement to the City.

County convicts are at work at the corner of Peachtree and Baker streets. In one day they finished setting the curb on West Baker street, and they will finish the same work on East Baker street today.

This morning another gang of county convicts will go to work leveling off the east side of Peachtree street preparatory to laying the foundation for the asphalt macadam.

A large squad of convicts working on Baker street was an inspiring as well as welcome sight to many citizens who have viewed with dismay the disrupted condition of Peachtree street for many months.

Gas Main Quickly Laid. The gas company put a large force of hands laying a main on East Baker street Wednesday and the work was completed in one day. The fact that there was no gas main on the street was not known until Tuesday morning, but the gas company officials got busy and rushed the work through without any loss of time. The pipe could have been laid a month or more ago.

An inspection of the work on Peachtree street Wednesday morning showed that there were three sewer connections still to be made and a telephone conduit to be laid; but the construction department assured Captain Donaldson, the county superintendent, that these would be completed by Thursday night, and the telephone company announced that the conduit would be laid by Friday morning.

Will Be Ready First of Week. On the west side of Peachtree there are four or five sewer connections to be made. That side of the street will be ready for the county the first of next week.

Everybody interested is now working in conjunction and a wonderful amount of work has been accomplished since The Constitution began its street improvement campaign last Friday, only five days ago.

If the weather holds good the whole street will probably be paved within four weeks. In the meantime the east side of the street may be open to traffic much sooner.

STRIKE AT COLUMBIA STILL TYING UP CARS

Columbia, S. C., October 23.—Three joint conferences called by the executive committee of the Columbia Chamber of Commerce between the Columbia street railway and its conductors and motormen on strike failed to produce any tangible change in the traction tie-up today. The strikers insist that the company sign a contract with the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, Division No. 45, agreeing to arbitrate all grievances. The company is willing to recognize the union among its employees, but refuses to make a contract what the Amalgamated. Columbia has had no street car service for the last five days.

Since the street improvement campaign has been started, the citizens on the south side are anxious to see the completion of the driveway connecting West End and Grant park. The route is over Georgia avenue to McDaniel street, thence to Glenn street and straight west until Glenn street connects with an extension of Gordon street.

Georgia avenue has been widened from Ira to McDaniel street. Glenn street has been widened between McDaniel and Humphries street. That portion of Glenn street has not yet been graded. All the houses that had to be moved have been set back.

Underpasses Must Be Built. The county is to do the grading and paving. But before another step can be taken arrangements must be made for constructing an underpass at the Southern railroad and enlarging and improving the underpass at the Atlanta and West Point railroad. The first named underpass will cost $1,440 for the grading and $10,552 for the abutments. The railroad will build the main steel structure at a cost of $2,292.60. The cost of the underpass at the Atlanta and West Point railroad will be $6,970; steel structure, to be paid for by the railroad, $23,395.

The first thing to be done is to get contracts with the railroads carrying the sewers and conduit.

THE CITY STREET.

"They took a little gravel. And they took a little tar. With various ingredients. Imported from afar. And when they went away, They said they had a pavement. That would last for many a day. But they came with picks and smote it."

To lay a water-main; And in time they called the workmen.

To put it back again. To run a railway cable they took it up once more;

And, later, put it back again. Just where it was before. They took it up for conduits To run the telephone;

And then they put it back again, As hard as any stone. They took it up for wires, To feed the electric light.

And then they put it back again, Which was no more than right. On the pavement full of furrows; There are patches everywhere; You'd like to ride upon it. But it's seldom that you dare. It's a very handsome pavement. A credit to the town; They're always digging of it up. Or putting of it down."

WIFE INNOCENT SAY INSURANCE FRAUD PROBERS

But Augustus Fenn Knew of Suits on Policy, They Assert.

DECIDE NOT TO PROSECUTE

Believed That Man Who Faked
Drowning Did So in Order to Provide for His Wife.

As the news comes from New Orleans that even the lawyers that fought the insurance companies have identified Augustus J. Fenn, and admitted that the suits for $15,000 will be dropped, officials of the Southern States Life Insurance company heighten the mystery surrounding this case by declaring that they believe Fenn knew of the fraud being attempted, but that his wife was absolutely innocent.

They believe that Fenn made all the arrangements for his fake drowning in the Apalachicola river in April, 1910, and then disappeared. In order that his wife might collect the two policies, one for $5,000 from the Southern States Life Insurance company, and one for $10,000 from the Security Life and Annuity company of Greensboro, N. C., and thus be provided for, instead of penniless, as was the case when he left home.

This is the first time known to the oldest observers when a man is charged with knowing that his own death claim was fraudulent, and that the companies were about to be swindled out of $15,000 while his wife, who was suing for the money, never had an idea of fraud.

Believe Wife Innocent.

"We are firmly convinced that Mrs. Fenn and her sons-in-law had no idea that Fenn was alive," said Wilmer L. Moore, president of the Southern States Life Insurance company. "But we also believe that Fenn himself knew that the suits were being brought by his wife and that she was going to get $15,000 because of his alleged drowning."

A. J. Orme, of the law firm of Jackson & Orme, which represented the Southern States in the case, announces the same belief.

Furthermore, says Mr. Orme, "Fenn could not have obtained any part of that $15,000 himself, even if his wife's motives were absolutely honest, and she would not have used us, nor received the money, if she had suspected her husband was alive."

Fenn Again Identified. Further identification of Fenn was obtained in New Orleans Tuesday by J. G. Jones, of Cordele, Ga., member of the law firm of Crum & Jones, which represented Mrs. Fenn in her claim for the $15,000. He admitted that the man was really Fenn, wired to Cordele and Atlanta Tuesday, practically closed the court cases at that moment.

A telegram received from Cordele says that efforts have been made to get Mrs. Fenn to bring the charge of wife desertion against her long-lost husband, in order to have him brought back to Georgia. This charge Mrs. Fenn declines to bring. It is understood that there will be no further effort made to have him brought back. Affidavits as to his identity will suffice for the law processes.

And so it develops that after searching the world for him and spending thousands of dollars before the unearthed his hiding place, the insurance companies will prefer no charge against Fenn. After exposing to the world his disappearance and wanderings, they will let him continue his way without interference.

NO EFFORT TO GET FENN TO RETURN TO CORDELE.

Cordele, Ga., October 23.—(Special.)—The report received in Cordele yesterday stating that Augustus J. Fenn, claimed to have been drowned in the Apalachicola river on April 20, 1910, had been located in New Orleans, is confirmed today by a second message from that city. The last report was received from J. G. Jones, an attorney of the city, who has gone there to investigate the affair. Jones represented Mrs. Nancy E. Fenn, wife of the supposed dead man, in suits against the Greensboro Life and Annuity company and the Southern States Life Insurance company for policies of $10,000 and $5,000, respectively, carried on the life of Fenn.

J. J. Williams, president of the Exchange bank of Cordele, and Joe Eppy, a prominent cotton broker, who married daughters of Mrs. Fenn, have gone to New Orleans. It is understood that they, with other Cordele parties there, will sign affidavits of Fenn still being alive, which will make it satisfactory in stopping all proceedings in the insurance cases.

It is understood that no effort will be made to get Fenn back to Cordele, since there could be no charge against him other than wife desertion, and this charge Mrs. Fenn will not bring. The only reason advanced for Fenn's actions is that he was heavily in debt, having lost large amounts in the naval stores business in Florida. No hint at charging conspiracy is suggested.

FENN TO RETURN TO CORDELE.

WITH HIS TWO SONS—S-LAW.

New Orleans, October 23.—J. J. Williams and Joseph Eppy, of Cordele, Ga., arrived here tonight and met their father-in-law, A. J. Fenn, who arrived here Monday from Mexico, where for two years he had lived while his family considered him dead. Fenn returned because his wife had instituted suits to recover insurance on his life. Arrangements for the withdrawal of the suits is said to have been agreed upon tonight with attorneys for the insurance companies concerned. Fenn and his sons-in-law will start tomorrow for the home which he disappeared from in 1910 because, according to his story, he could not face the financial losses that he had suffered.

ALBES WINNING OVER THE TURKS AT BLOODY COST

Fiercest Sort of Fighting in Progress on All Frontiers.

GREAT VICTORY FOR GREEKS

They Capture Servia and Cut Off
Turkish Army—Fierce Battle
Before Adrianople.

London, October 23.—The news from the seat of war tonight tells of the continued success of the allies. The Servians have captured Novipazar, and are virtual masters of Kumanova. The victories, however, have been purchased at a heavy sacrifice.

The situation in Thrace is becoming clearer. A great battle is being fought over a wide semi-circular front before Adrianople, upon which town the Bulgarians gradually are closing in. On the east they have occupied Vasilika and Tirmovo, and are continuing their advance southward.

On the west the Bulgarians, according to official Sofia accounts, have reached the Arda river, close to Adrianople, which is being vigorously bombarded. Already the two outer forts have fallen. Some positions to the north of Adrianople are also said to have been taken after fighting of the severest character.

Of the army in the center, operating in the direction of Kirk-Kilisseh, there was no news today, and evidently that fortress still is holding out.

Turks Not So Confident.

It is significant that tonight's Constantinople despatches which say a decisive result is expected tomorrow, have a less confident tone than previous dispatches from that capital. They admit that a heavy struggle is in progress, in which both sides are showing the utmost bravery.

Information concerning the Montenegrin progress is meager, but the Turkish authorities claim that Scutari has been reinforced and is safe.

The Greek army is apparently driving the Turks. The Greeks have occupied the town of Servia, and it is claimed have cut off the retreat of the Turks. The Turkish army is reported scattered.

GREEK ARMY TAKES SERVIA

TURKISH ARMY IS SCATTERED. Athens, October 24.—(1:45 a. m.)—The Greeks have occupied the town of Servia, and have also captured the bridge over the river Alakman (Indis Kareas), thereby cutting off the retreat of the Turks. The government has dispatched telegrams congratulating the commander and the troops.

The Greek victory was complete. The Greeks captured twenty-two guns, made many prisoners and scattered the Turkish army.

Crown Prince Constantine, telegraphing from headquarters last night, reports:

"Our troops are pursuing the enemy all along the line from Cambunna to the town of Servia, and on the Alakman plain. The Turkish army has been scattered. We have taken twenty-two field guns, with their ammunition wagons and a large quantity of arms, munition and many transport wagons."

AFTER FIERCE FIGHTING.

SERVIAN CAPTURE NOVIPAZAR. Belgrade, Servia, October 23.—It is officially announced that the third Servian army today captured the town of Novipazar after fierce fighting and great sacrifices.

The Turks are retreating from Kumanova, but the town is still in their hands. The Servians have completely surrounded it, and the Turks hold an important position dominating the town.

The second contingent of wounded.

The capture of Novikoff by General Jankovitch was preceded by three days' desperate fighting, the Turks holding strong fortified positions.

General Jankovitch reports that the Serbian losses in the capture of Bristina were extraordinarily large, but that the Turkish losses were still greater.

Some alarm is felt here lest the supply of cartridges should run out. The factory at Makrke is working day and night, but can only produce a quarter of a million daily.

ADRIANOPLE IS BOMBARDED

By Bulgarian Artillery
Sofia, October 23.—The government organ, Mir reports that the Bulgarians are directing a heavy artillery fire on Adrianople. The two outer forts on the city have been captured.

Crowds gathered around the war office are awaiting official bulletins of progress of the operations against Kirk-Kiliseh and Adrianople.

The newspapers publish varying reports. They say only that serious fighting is proceeding around both towns.

According to one report a decisive movement against Kirk-Kiliseh began Monday evening when cavalry and infantry, under cover of a heavy artillery fire, attacked the town on two sides. The Bulgarians have completely surrounded Kirk-Kiliseh, which the Turks regard as of almost equal importance with Adrianople. Its defense has been entrusted to Mukhtar Pasha, son of the grand vizier, and Hamid Pasha.

FIGHTING IS IN PROGRESS ON THE VARIOUS FRONTIERS
Constantinople, October 23.—The situation on the various frontiers as announced tonight shows heavy fighting to the northwest of Kirk-Kiliseh and east of the Tundja valley; engagements around Kirdchali, and offensive tactics by the Turks in Macedonia in the direction of Koestendil, from Djumhah to Egril Panska.

The Montenegrin forces are endeavoring to reach Scutari from the west of the lake, but the Turks have received reinforcements, and the town is believed to be out of danger, while on the east of the lake the Montenegrins are inactive. Severe fighting is going on around Pristina.

A dispatch from Uskup reports that a Turkish column operating from Kumanova captured from the Bulgarians four guns and a standard, the Serbians six guns and a standard. The Turks also took a number of prisoners.

The Turkish newspapers report Turkish victories near Kirk-Kiliseh, where, they assert, the Bulgarians left 3,000 dead on the field. At Maras, between the Tundja and Maritza rivers, 4 miles to the west of Adrianople, where the Bulgarians had 30,000 men

STUDEBAKER DAY AT GEORGIA FAIR

Over 500 Autos From Many Cities Take Trip to Macon.

Macon, Ga., October 23.—(Special.)—Only two days now remain of the 1912 Georgia state fair. Fully 20,000 people were on the grounds today, and it was easily the climax of the entire exposition.

The day was officially known as "Studebaker day," and between 500 and 600 owners of cars manufactured by the Studebaker corporation were present in their machines from various portions of the state. The number would have been larger had the roads been in better condition. Many machines were stalled en route and found it impossible to complete the trip.

A parade of all of the machines at noon was followed by a barbecue at the fair grounds. After all had been fed there were still hundreds of pounds of meat that had not been touched. So all visitors at the fair were invited to partake.

Tomorrow will be Greater Macon day, and will be generally observed as a holiday by the business houses of the city in order that the clerks may attend. The final flights were made engaged, they left thousands of dead. SULTAN AND KING EXCHANGE SOME IRRITATING MESSAGES

New York, October 23.—A cable dispatch from Paris contains the following account of the beginning of the Balkan war: "When the Sultan of Turkey gave orders for army mobilization he sent to the Czar of Bulgaria a sack of millet with the following letter:

"Perrinand Effendi: Mobilize if you like, but be assured that there are as many soldiers in Turkey as there are grains of millet in this sack. Now, if you wish, declare war."

The czar's reply was in kind. He sent a very much smaller sack, filled with tiny grains of a most virulent red pepper of the country. With it went the following dedication:

"Dear Sultan: The Bulgarians are not numerous. It is true, but be assured that to stick your nose into their affairs is like sticking it into our national condiment. Try it and see; they'll sting you so sharply that the whole of Asia will not be able to save you."

KILLED TWO WHITE MEN AND ASSAULTED GIRL

Indianapolis, October 23.—Frank Smith, a negro, today confessed to the police that he killed Frank Foxall and Philip Lepper, whites, near the state fair grounds the evening of October 2 last. The negro was arrested in Louisville, Ky., and returned to this city this morning.

Smith in his confession, said the white men first called him names and then hit him with a stone before he began shooting at them.

Foxall and Lepper, bartenders, were killed after a holiday with two women. One of the women left the scene before the murders and the other's story of the negro was discredited by the police at first. The girl said that the negro, after killing the two men, assaulted her. This the negro denied in his confession.

NO really high-grade cigarette has ever increased in sale so rapidly as FATIMA. The reason is evident—smokers would rather have that extra quality in the tobacco than in a fancy package. In their simple, inexpensive wrapping 20 FATIMAS cost but 15 cents.

NEW CREMATORY WASTE OF MONEY

Repair Old Plant, and Cancel
Contract, Urges Amorous

Suggests That Two New Plants,
Costing $50,000 Each, Be Erected in Different Parts of City.

The $276,000 crematory the city council has contracted with the Destructive company of New York, to erect, will be a needless expenditure of money, according to Martin F. Amorous, financier, and former chairman of the finance committee of the city council. He believes the city ought to spend $5,000 or more on the old plant, and should cancel the contract for the new structure.

The scheme unfolded by Mr. Amorous Wednesday morning is similar in many respects to the proposition he made the city council some years ago. Judge John S. Candler and Steve R. Johnston both had similar ideas as to crematory plant, but there was not enough support behind it to get it through the council. The board of health urged that two plants be erected in different parts of the city, and $50,000 was provided in the bond issue for the purpose.

Plant Can Be Repaired.
The old plant is in an isolated section near the Manhattan avenue district. It cost the city $30,000 and has a capacity of 200 tons of garbage burned in a day. The plant is now burning 100 tons daily, and only operates ten hours in daylight. It can be repaired and put in excellent condition, according to Superintendent F. H. Shearer, for $3,000. A storage house could be erected for $2,000, and the burners could be repaired and rendered smokeless for $1,000.

"The new plant is going to cost the city $276,000, and it is only going to burn fifty more tons of garbage a day than this plant," explains Mr. Amorous. "It will require $100,000 additional for equipment to handle enough garbage in a day to supply the capacity demand. The city would save an immense amount of money by repairing the old plant, and it would have a system that will be ample to take care of the garbage in Atlanta for the next ten years, possibly more."

Only One Council Visitor.
According to information gathered while Mr. Amorous, John Jentzen, chief of the sanitary department, and a party of newspaper men were looking over the old plant, only one member of the general council visited the old

ALEX BONNYMAN MAKES A CHANGE

He Succeeds Late R. O. Campbell as President of Campbell Coal Company.

Alex Bonnyman, formerly chief of construction and general manager of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad, has been made president of the Campbell Coal Mining company and has severed his connection with the railroad company in order to assume the duties of his new position on November 1, succeeding the late R. O. Campbell as the head of this important coal mining property.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonnyman will make their residence at Knoxville, Tenn., from which point Mr. Bonnyman will operate the four coal mines of the company in Tennessee and Kentucky, as well as supervise its extensive land properties in these two states. Mr. and Mrs. Bonnyman have been residents of Atlanta since the headquarters of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic system was located here and their departure from the city will be regarded with regret by their many friends here. Mr. Bonnyman, as chief engineer, had complete charge of the construction of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad and it is said that no new railroad ever built in the south surpassed this one in the excellence of its construction. He is highly esteemed in Atlanta and throughout the state and will become a valuable asset to the enterprising citizenship of Knoxville.

plant during the year to look into the merit of the repair proposition. The visitor was Alderman James J. Johnston, who was on his hands even if the new crematory plans are carried out, says Mr. Amorous. New auto trucks and more dump wagons will be required to keep the plant in operation during the day. The space will not be ample to prevent congestion, and he doubts if any system of disposal will equal the one in use. Atlanta throws away more garbage than any other city its size in the south, and has more waste than Cincinnati.

Never Declared a Nuisance.
"The old plant has never been declared a nuisance," said Mr. Amorous, "whereas the new plant will be objectionable. I don't want to be viewed in the light of butting into the affairs of the city. I merely want to show the papers that the scheme, if good a year ago, should be good now. Where is the city going to dump all the garbage next year? There will be injunctions galore, and damage suits will spring up everywhere."

"I consider that the proper thing to do is to retain the old plant. Spend $2,000 on it for repairs, and let two new plants be erected in different parts of the city to cost about $50,000 each. That would cut down the long haul cost."

City Can Only Go Ahead.
Chief Jentzen, of the sanitary department, while admitting that the plan is a good one, does not believe there is anything for the city to do but go ahead with the new plant. He says that Atlanta will have the finest plant in the United States when it is completed, and is enthusiastic over it. The city has already signed the contract with the Destructive company for the new plant. The plans have been sent to Captain Clayton for approval, but were returned because of technical changes the contractor made in the specifications. The city would face a big damage suit if it went back on its contract.

"LITTLE BOY" PARTY GIVEN FOR MR. CREW'S BIRTHDAY

A little boy party was the very appropriate entertainment which celebrated last night the sixty-eighth birthday of Mr. B. B. Crew.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lee Crew were the hosts of the evening, and they assembled to meet their father at their home on West Peachtree street the family group and a few of Mr. Crew's long-time friends, the party numbering thirty.

The reception rooms had artistic decorations in palms and yellow lilies, and a buffet supper was served in the dining room, where a handsomely appointed table had as its centerpiece a tall crystal vase of yellow chrysanthemums, with detail of color in yellow.

The birthday cake, with its candles burning, was a pretty feature, and a big Jack Horner pie provided caps, whistles, horns and other suitable favors for the guests, who drew them out of the pie by streamers of ribbons bearing names of the guests, and a humorous personal allusion.

Mrs. Crew received her guests wearing a becoming toilet of lavender faille and lace, and Mrs. B. B. Crew was gowned in gray chiffon and silver. While the birthday party was a small and intimate occasion, Mr. Crew has a large acquaintance to congratulate him. Senior member of one of the oldest and most representative business firms in Atlanta, he is identified both with the city's commercial growth and musical activity, and socially he has as many warm friends as any man in the city.

DALTON TODAY UNVEILS MONUMENT TO JOHNSTON

Dalton, Ga., October 23.—(Special.)—The unveiling of the Joseph E. Johnston monument in this city tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock will be an event of patriotic interest and noteworthy importance. The city is beautifully decorated with flags and bunting, the speakers' platform and seats are ready, the monument is practically complete and everything is in readiness for the unveiling. All business houses will close in honor of the occasion.

At 12 o'clock a luncheon will be given on the Elks club by the delegates and veterans. Following the luncheon the program will begin at the monument in the park in the center of Crawford street. Hon. Moses Wright, of Rome, will deliver the principal address, followed by Miss Kenney, the famous girl sculptor, on the design of the monument. Little Susyella Thomas of this city will pull the cords which will expose to view the statue of the famous and beloved confederate general.

The delivery of the crosses of honor to the veterans of the lost cause will be included in the program, which is said to be the last of such honors to be conferred.

A telephone wire, by setting on fire the flags and bunting used in decorating the hall room of the Elks club, caused much anxiety and excitement tonight. However, the flames were extinguished before serious damage resulted.

OFFICER WHO KILLED WRIGHT ALLOWED BOND

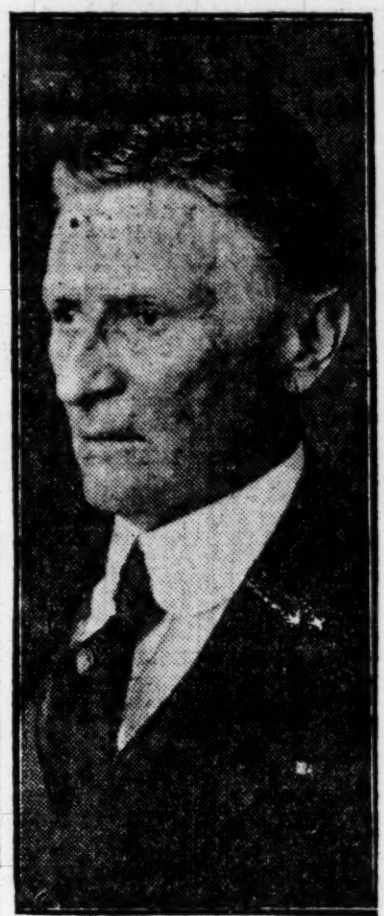

E. H. Parham, the policeman who several weeks ago shot and killed John Wright, was allowed a $5,000 bond by Judge George Bell, of the superior court, yesterday. Bond was signed later by Assistant Chief of Police E. L. Jett, by W. T. Morris, a merchant, and by L. W. James, a bailiff.

The bond was granted on a writ of habeas corpus, and in allowing it, Judge Bell took occasion to deny the right of a policeman to shoot down a fleeing man when the officer has no knowledge that the fugitive has committed a felony, and when the fugitive does not know that an officer of the law is calling on him to halt.

Whether or not Parham will go back to work on the police force is a question that Chief J. L. Beavers has not yet decided.

UNION SOLDIER RESTS IN UNMASKED GRAVE

Without a friend to mourn him, without a comrade to pay the last respects to a dead union soldier, Charles M. Dougherty was buried Tuesday in a grave that will remain unmarked until charity raises a headstone. Dougherty was taken ill some days ago on a train and was put off here. He died in the Grady hospital. He had been an inmate of the Soldiers' Home, Jackson City, Tenn., and was off on a visit to Jacksonville.

TRAFFIC RULES ARE INADEQUATE

A. H. Sayers Quotes Kansas
City Regulation Lights
for All Vehicles.

In a criticism of the way street traffic is handled in Atlanta, A. H. Sayers, of the National Surety company, in a communication to The Constitution utters a complaint as to the way vehicles are allowed to stand abreast in the streets.

A municipal ordinance requiring all vehicles, including drays, delivery wagons and bicycles, to display lights at night, is also suggested. He says: "Formerly I lived in Kansas City, which is noted throughout the country for its beautiful drives and streets and well regulated traffic. If one accustomed to prevailing methods in Atlanta were to visit Kansas City during the rush hours in the downtown district he would be amazed at the ease and order with which the traffic is handled. In which both vehicles and pedestrians move. The people there have been educated to the right way of using the streets and sidewalks so that now it is perfectly natural and easy for them to regard the rights of others and at the same time avoid unnecessary delay."

"Among the more conspicuous examples of 'jay' habits here are leaving two vehicles standing abreast, leaving a car or other vehicle in passing, while it is at an angle towards the curb instead of broadside close to it, and turning around in the middle of a block. Anyone of these serves to practically block the street when a car or other vehicle is passing, while it is left close to the curb where they belong there would still be ample room for others to pass. Of course an exception is where a street is unusually wide like Marietta street opposite the Empire and Third National bank buildings."

Mr. Sayers quotes the rules for the regulation of street traffic in Kansas City, which forbids vehicles to turn around in any street except at the intersection of two streets, requires vehicles to pull to the right when signaled from behind that another desires to pass; forbids the blocking of streets by street cars or other vehicles. In regard to pedestrians crossing a street, they are required not to "carelessly or maliciously interfere with the passage of vehicles."

$175,000 IN DAMAGES ASKED FROM SOUTHERN

Suits aggregating $175,000 have been filed against the Southern Railway company by two employees and the widow of another.

William A. Cable, of Birmingham, brought his suit in the city court of Atlanta for $100,000, alleging that on May 14, while a conductor for the company, he had both legs crushed by the car wheels on a side track near Riverside, Ala.

William O. Shell and Ethel Palmer, widow of O. Palmer, brought suits for $25,000 and $50,000, respectively, in the superior court. They ask for damages on account of an accident on September 28, alleging that a switch engine bumped into a car being repaired at the Marietta street yards. O. Palmer and Shell were repairing the car on the siding and Shell claims that his back was injured and his earning power almost totally diminished. Palmer was killed.

PICKETING IS ALLOWED; INTIMIDATION BARRED

Strikebreakers can be won over to the side of the striking union by argument and moral suasion, but not by force or intimidation, according to the order just issued by Judge George L. Bell, in the case of the Southern Iron and Equipment company and the Spalding Foundry company against the local moulder's union, in the superior court.

The plaintiffs sought an injunction prohibiting the strikers from gathering near their places of business and in any way interfering with their employees. The judge modified the request of the companies and allowed pickets to be placed at its plant by its striking employees, as long as there was no disorder or intimidation.

PARENTS SEEKING SON; SUFFERS FROM APHASIA

Chief Beavers has been appealed to by relatives of Howard Durce, a 14-year-old youth, who has been missing from home for the past several days, to assist in the frantic search being made for him. Young Durce, his parents say, has been suffering from brain fever, and it is believed his disappearance was caused by aphasia.

ALDERMAN FIGHTS AT GRAFT CHARGE

J. W. Maddox Tilts With J. B. Pylant, a Butcher, Who Was Arrested.

The allegation that "graft" existed in city council resulted in a lively tilt Wednesday morning between Alderman J. W. Maddox and J. B. Pylant, a butcher operating a shop on Marietta street, near Hunnicutt street.

A case of disorderly conduct was docketed against Pylant, and he will be tried before Recorder Broyles this morning. Mr. Maddox, according to the police, says that he had driven in his buggy to Marietta and Hunnicutt streets, where he became engaged in conversation with J. H. Hickey and T. A. Jeffries over civic matters.

Mr. Pylant, Alderman Maddox said, joined the trio and casually remarked that the city council reeked with graft and corruption, but that it would stop immediately upon Mayor-elect Woodward's inauguration.

Alderman Maddox retorted that Pylant couldn't put his finger upon an iota of corruption in council circles, when Pylant replied that if Maddox hadn't "got his" it was Maddox's fault, sandwiching the allegation, according to Mr. Maddox, with the epithet "liar," whereupon the alderman jumped from his buggy and proceeded in the butcher's direction.

Maddox declares that at this juncture Pylant drew a dirk, and that he considered it more prudent to call an officer. Policeman Dodd responded. It is said Pylant again called Maddox a "liar," and that his face was slapped by the alderman. The officer declares Pylant first threw a steel file at Mr. Maddox, and also that he was attempting to bring a meat ax into play when he was subdued by the policeman.

Savannah, Ga., October 23.—(Special.)—C. E. Lee, who about a year ago shot and killed President Hilton, of the Bank of Savannah, was arrested today by Constable J. H. Monroe on a bench warrant from Screven county, charging him with a minor offense.

Lee has been in a local hospital and was arrested following his discharge. He is now confined in the Chatham county jail.

AGED BROTHERS DIE; BURIAL ON SAME DAY

Two aged brothers, whose lives were parallel in many events, and who were claimed by death through the same disease within two days of one another, were buried yesterday in the churchyard which they knew as children, thus carrying out their last request.

James A. Webb and William Webb were born in DeKalb county more than seventy years ago, being nearly of the same age. Here they lived practically their entire lives, marrying at almost the same time, and rearing their children to know little difference between father and uncle.

Then they both came to Atlanta to live and here it was that both died. James Webb Sunday night at his residence, 18 Hightower street, and William Webb at his residence, 142 South Pryor street. The brother William was never told that James had preceded him, although both were expecting to die from paralysis. W. H. Webb is now critically ill. The bodies of the brothers will be taken to Owsley chapel this morning for funeral and interment.

COME SEE OUR NEW FALL GOODS

A BIG BRIGHT STORE FILLED WITH THE MERCHANDISE THAT WOMEN WANT

What glorious shopping days these should be, now that the thermometer has taken a slump and now that this store with its great and varied stocks swings into line, fit and ready to meet the demands of the women of Atlanta.

The store is alive and throbbing with vigor and enthusiasm! The vigor and enthusiasm of a store that has captured the best of the merchandise of the world, and now come the days when its efforts will be proved out, when the pleasing recognition of its ability to serve you better than you have been served before are to come.

It is not a question of what your needs are—coats or comfortables, suits or silks, pins or purses, hats or hosiery, trained and skilled buyers have gathered from far and near the many and varied WORTHY values that make it a question of genuine economy that you should do your fall shopping here.

Smart Chiffon Waists at $5.00

Perhaps the first thing that you will notice is the unusually large variety of waists at this price—one model after another. Individually they hold their heads above any $5.00 waists we have shown—all the marks of distinction of the new season. Robespierre collars, accordion plaits, lace edge sleeves, transparent yokes, yokes of figured net, crystal buttons—they look more than their price—plenty of blues, browns, tans, grays. No trouble at all in finding one to match your suit.

What May You Expect in the Ready-to-Wear Department?

You may expect all the joy and pleasure that comes from the selecting of your suit, your dress, your coat, from literally hundreds of models.

This applies not to any particular price, nor to several prices—it is general; the ready-to-wear department knows but one limitation, and that is that none but the best that any price can buy shall enter.

Right now we might mention suits at $25, at $29.75, or $35; coats at $12.50 and $17.50, woolen dresses at $8.75 and $11.50; silk dresses at $15 and $19.75, and truthfully pronounce them as remarkable values, for they are all that with a vengeance, but we would thus be minimizing the very point that all our efforts have been bent on effecting—that the whole ready-to-wear department this season brings to the women of Atlanta values that are paramount at every price.

The belief that comes of seeing, however, is better than that of reading. So see.

See the results of our buyer's recent trip to New York.

In the Suits, that have just come in—these of the corded woollens, the zibelines, the soft tone mixtures, the serges, often very plain as to trimming and very smart as to fashioning with the novel little vest effects and the elegant cut-away; others touched with severe black braids and others as rich as could be with rich Oriental trimmings.

In the Coats, so full of warmth and good looks. They are usually shorter than those you are accustomed to and smarter in style and in materials—monotone coats in gray and in tan, these of chinchilla, others showing big plaids faintly outlined, and other striking, bold, well-defined plaids in heavy Scotch coatings.

In the Dresses of wool or silk—Eponge is one of the favorites for street wear and eponge with velvet is one of the novelties of first importance—then there are the trim little tailored dresses of Bedford cord, of whipcord and serge that are distinctive because of the ways in which their yokes and collars are fashioned. Among the silks charmeuse and charmeuse with velvet dresses claim first attention and here is a splendid display of them in shades for street and evening wear.

The ready-to-wear department has much to interest you!

COTTON "CORNER" UP TO HIGH COURT

Serious Defects in Indictment of Patten, Scales and Brown Admitted.

Washington, October 23.—Admissions of defects in the indictment of James Patten, Eugene Scales, Frank B. Hayne and William B. Brown on charges of conspiracy to run a $10,000,000 corner on cotton in 1910 on the New York cotton exchange, in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law were made in the supreme court of the United States today by Solicitor General Bullitt for the government. The occasion was the second argument over the indictment, the court not being willing to decide last spring the correctness of the decision of the New York court in quashing several vital counts in the indictment.

The new solicitor general had barely stated to the court that the question in the case was the decision of the lower court that the Sherman anti-trust law did not prohibit the "running of a corner," before Chief Justice White suggested that he would be pleased to have the government at some time define just what it meant by "corner." Mr. Bullitt responded it was a combination among dealers in a commodity, or outside capitalists, for the purpose of buying up the greater portion of the commodity and holding it back from sale until the demand so far outran the limited supply as to advance the price abnormally.

"Now, I want you to show how the indictment fits that definition," added the chief justice.

That led the solicitor general to announce that he abandoned the third count of the indictment, because the lower court found there was no charge in it that the defendants were to hold back the cotton from sale.

"Getting right down to brass tacks," declared Mr. Bullitt, "I frankly admit that the other count, the seventh, has one defect, as there is no express statement in it that the combination was created to withhold from the market the cotton brought."

In dealing with this defect the government advanced two arguments. One was that the lower court construed the count to charge the running of a corner, and the supreme court could do nothing now but accept that interpretation, notwithstanding it might have been a conviction and an appeal.

The second argument, Mr. Bullitt said, was that the government had used the word "corner" in the count, and everybody in the world knew that a corner included a withholding from sale. Justice Vandever suggested that the government did not have that point, for immediately after the word "corner" he had defined the term without including a charge of withholding from sale.

Finally Mr. Bullitt admitted that if neither one of these arguments was accepted, the government had no case.

Former Senator John C. Spooner will be here tomorrow in defense of the accused.

DISCOURAGED, NOT ILL, CROKER YIELDS TO DEATH

Amos Croker, an electrician of Montgomery, Ala., died Wednesday afternoon at his home, 28 Elm street. Croker was only 22 years old. He left his former home in Lithia Springs, Ga., several years ago and had been making his own way in Montgomery, where he worked as an electrician for the Western Union.

One day last week he fell from a telephone pole, a distance of barely three feet, but the fall injured him internally, he thought, and he suffered much. On top of that he was seized the next day with an attack of malarial fever. The combination of forces working against him almost overwhelmed the young man, and he lost his spirit at the very start. He was literally disheartened, though, his injuries were not serious, he took a train to Atlanta, and his aunt, Mrs. Luella Burson, welcomed him to her home. Dr. W. A. Arnold and Dr. Elzie Thomas saw the young man, but were unable to say afterwards whether malaria or internal injuries caused the death. The body will be taken to his old home in Lithia Springs, Ga., Friday for interment.

$57,000 REJECTED BY SEN. BEVERIDGE

Indiana Man Returned Campaign Gifts of George W. Perkins and Others.

Washington, October 23.—That Senator Albert J. Beveridge returned campaign contributions amounting to $57,000, sent to him by George W. Perkins, Edward L. McLean and Gifford Pinchot, was the testimony of three witnesses examined today by the senate campaign contributions committee.

While Mr. Perkins, when examined by the committee, declared he could remember sending only $10,000 to Senator Beveridge, which was returned, today's testimony was to the effect that Senator Beveridge received and returned three checks or drafts, each for $19,000. Besides $25,000 was received from and returned to Edward L. McLean, cousin of Senator Beveridge, and either $2,500 or $3,000 was returned to Gifford Pinchot.

Larry A. Whitcomb, who had a law office with Senator Beveridge in 1904; John F. Hayes, formerly Senator Beveridge's private secretary, and Leopold G. Rothschild, who was on the Indiana republican executive committee in 1904, were today's witnesses. Each of them testified to having witnessed and signed copies of the letters with which Senator Beveridge returned the contributions. Mr. Rothschild said Senator Beveridge showed him the drafts from Mr. Perkins early in October before the election and announced his intention of returning the money. Mr. Rothschild said he advised holding the money until after election lest the contributions be offended, and that Senator Beveridge concluded to do this. The money was returned ten days after election.

After the committee had adjourned for the day, Frank J. Hogan, representing the progressive party in Washington, gave out a letter which he said had been telephoned him from the New York office of Mr. Perkins and which purports to be the letter of Senator Beveridge returning the money sent him by Perkins. The letter named no amount. It read as follows:

"Dear Old Man: Herewith I return you untouched the splendid sum you so generously sent me to help me in the battle just won. It was noble of you, George—characteristic of your great big, noble heart and I am grateful and appreciative beyond words to express. I could not use a cent of the magnificent amount you placed at my disposal, and so return it to you intact."

"Do not feel offended at this; my assistant sent me a draft for $25,000 and I returned the draft to him just as I am sending the inclosed back to you. Your beautiful friendship, steady proved as the years pass, is very sweet and dear to me."

"Give my regards to our mutual friends, my love to the folks at home, and believe me always, with tenderest affection, as ever, ALBERT J. BEVERIDGE."

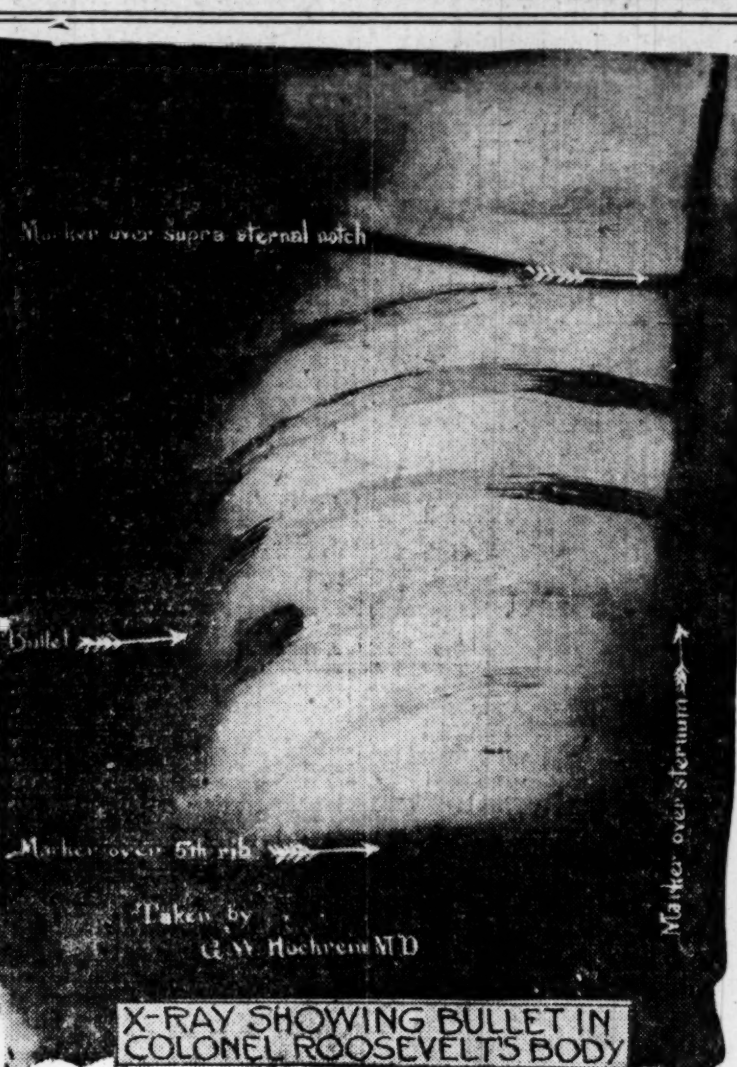

This letter, Mr. Hogan said, would be presented to the committee tomorrow for the record.

APOLLO COMPANY HERE FOR CONCERT TONIGHT

The Apollo Concert company, which appears at the Baptist Tabernacle tonight as the second number on the Alhambra Lyceum course, is just bringing to a close a most successful and popular tour of the south. It is said that this company is the best of its kind in the lyceum, the personnel of the company having been the same for the past ten years. Their program will include instrumental solos, duets, trios and quartets on all the various instruments, while the Apollophone will include the quintet. Miss Coyle M. Spring, who is a very charming soprano and most excellent reader, will also give selections, which will add much to the enjoyment of the evening.

W. A. Binford, Huntsville, Ala., October 23.—(Special.)—W. A. Binford was found dead in his bed yesterday morning at his home near this city. His death was caused by paralysis of the heart. The deceased was 38 years of age and is survived by a widow and several children. Mr. Binford had not been in good health for some time, but was in a run-down condition physically. He has held responsible positions with a number of large firms of the city and was at the time of his death bookkeeper for Pitman Bros.

STRIKE ARBITRATORS GRANTED MORE TIME

Hoke Smith and Reuben Arnold Two of Five Men Being Considered to Complete Board.

At the end of the allotted five days, the arbitrators in the Georgia strike question find themselves in the midst of conferences and counter-proposals with the names of several prominent men under consideration, but with the third arbitrator yet unchosen.

The rules of the Erdman arbitration act are to be set aside, by agreement of all parties, in order that President Charles A. Wickesha, of the West Point railroad, and Vice President E. A. Burgess, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, may be allowed more time for their choice.

It has become known that Senator Hoke Smith and Reuben R. Arnold are among the five men to whom the question of a third arbitrator has now narrowed down.

Ten men have already been declined by one or the other of the two arbitrators, after their names had been carefully considered. Among those ten names were some of the most eminent men of Georgia and the south, sometimes in incident in a man's life that occurred years ago causes him to be declined by one side as an arbitrator.

They have communicated with Charles P. Neill, who is now in Washington, and obtained his consent for at least forty-eight hours' extension of the five days' time allowed by the Erdman act. By Thursday or Friday the third arbitrator will be decided on and the board will be ready to proceed with the arbitration.

CITY ORGANIZATIONS ACTIVE IN CONTEST

Some of Them Need More Nominations Before Sunday—Send in Name of Your Favorite.

On Sunday, October 27, the names of individuals and organizations in the city of Atlanta and also outside cities who have entered the contest will be published. Several have already obtained the required ten names to give them the nomination of 10,000 to start with. Many friends of the churches, schools, labor unions, lodges, etc., have sent in nominations, but the required number are lacking a few names to be complete.

If you are interested in some favorite charity, or wish to help fill the depleted treasury of your church, lodge or need money for some current expense, now is the time to act. The simplicity of the proposition should recommend it to everyone. Remember, that you are not soliciting your friends for a cent—just asking them to save labels and sale slips.

Many societies and individuals will regret not making an effort to win some of these valuable prizes when they have found out how easily they have been won, when the contest is closed.

Read the double-page announcement on Sunday and Wednesday, then call the Contest Department on the phone, Main 5,000. One of their representatives will call and explain in detail.

THEATERS

"Louisiana Lou."

(At the Atlanta.) This morning at 9 o'clock seats will be placed on sale at the Atlanta for the engagement of that big musical comedy, "Louisiana Lou," of which so many good reports have been heard. This show will remain Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, with a Wednesday matinee. It has a cast of sixty, with Anna Chandler and Samuel Liebert in the two leads, and is one of the real hits of the past two seasons.

Keith Vaudeville.

Vaudeville at the Grand has proven to be a most popular success. The best acts in the popular branch of things theatrical come to the famous theater, as is evidenced by the quality of the numbers this week—Lillian Herein, W. L. Abington and company, Will Dillon and George Roland and company, not to mention the others, all of whom score applause and win laughter. The bill is drawing big crowds.

"Madame X."

(At the Lyric.) Unusually large audiences are to be found this week at the Lyric, where Miss Eugenie Blair is giving a remarkably clever performance of "Madame X." This is the first presentation of the play at popular prices, and indications point to a great week's business. "Madame X" is well worth your while.

"The Traveling Salesman."

(At the Lyric.) "The Traveling Salesman" is one of the bookings at the Lyric Monday, October 18. The announcement will be welcomed by all the theatergoers. "The Traveling Salesman" is worthy successor to "The Chorus Lady," James Forbes' other great success. The company is headed by Robert Lee Allen, a comedian of national prominence, and the supporting company is particularly capable.

Emma Bunting.

(At the Forsyth.) Just when little Emma Bunting scored so heavily as she is registering at the Forsyth this week cannot be recalled. In the title role of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," the pet of the matinee girls and the idol of a host of theatergoers has won a warm place in the hearts and the good wishes of a whole army of admirers. The play is delightfully handled. The cast is most excellent and the scenic production superb.

OLD SOL SLIGHTING ATLANTA RECENTLY

First Light Frost of the Autumn Scheduled to Fall This Morning.

The present year seems to be making an effort to take weather records away from all comers, and after putting all past years in the shade as regards the quantity of rainfall, has now eclipsed the memory of the weatherman in respect to the length of time that the sun has failed to shine.

From 11:30 o'clock on the morning of October 17 until 6 o'clock yesterday morning the delicate instruments that record the rays of Old Sol failed to show sunshine except a single four-minute period on last Friday. That does not mean, of course, that Atlanta has not had sunlight at that time, but merely refers to sunshine.

The weatherman has no exact records at his command right now on the time that clouds and bad weather have kept the warmth of the sun's rays off this part of the globe, but he says that he is certain that the present record is one that has not been broken since he has been in office.

The first light frost of the autumn is due to fall this morning and Atlantans will feel rather chilly when they crawl out of bed, according to official predictions, but later in the day the mercury will climb back to normal. It hung around 60 degrees Wednesday and is due to go back that high before noon today. The coldest temperature is not expected to be below 38 or 40 degrees. Wednesday morning 43½ degrees was the bottom limit.

The light frost predicted for this morning can do no harm to any but the tenderest of plants.

CITY NEWS

Being Tried Fourth Time.—Whitfield R. Boyd, for years a mail agent on the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic road, who was indicted nearly two years ago charged with pilfering mail matter on his route, and who has faced three juries in the United States court, is now on his fourth trial. Three juries who heard the evidence against Boyd were unable to reach a verdict, and his fourth trial began Tuesday. The case will be taken up again this morning.

Turners Will Entertain.—The entertainment committee of the Atlanta Turn Verein announces an entertainment at the turners' hall Tuesday evening. There will be a lecture by Professor Karl Jansen, a Swedish entertainer, while later in the evening the younger set will have full sway with dancing. An orchestra will attend to the musical feature.

Negro Sues for Damages.—Charging that James W. Morrow, Jr., pointed a pistol at him, threatened to shoot and finally knocked him down with the weapon, Jesse Hagwood, a negro, brought suit yesterday afternoon in the superior court against Morrow, individually, and against the Morrow Transfer and Storage company, of which he is a superintendent. He leaves the damages to the court. Mrs. Morrow was arrested and fined in police court for the row, so the suit cites, which occurred on the morning of October 19, and arose over the white man accusing the negro, who was a driver, of putting the wrong harness on a mule. Judge W. R. Hammond represents the plaintiff.

Suits Are Transferred.—Three suits against the Southern railway, recently filed in the state courts in Atlanta, were yesterday transferred to the federal district court because of the non-residency of the defendant company. Two of the suits are based on alleged injuries to two of the plaintiffs, Mrs. Lucy Higgins and W. A. Neal, of Atlanta, assert in the papers of file they received on September 22, 1911, in a collision that night between a passenger train on which they were riding, and a freight train on the Peachtree bridge, while the third suit is brought by Sherwood Higgins because of injuries Mrs. Higgins alleged to have sustained. The damages claimed by the Southern aggregated $23,000. Mrs. Higgins' injuries being placed at $15,000, while Sherwood Higgins' was $8,000, and W. A. Neal wants $5,000.

Residence Burns.—Fire completely destroyed the two-story residence of R. R. Brown, 76 Hardie street, shortly after midnight. The origin of the blaze is unknown.

ROBBER RESTORES $1,030,000 BUT WILL BE PROSECUTED

Philadelphia, October 23.—Reports that had been current in Philadelphia for more than a year that the Union Trust company had been robbed of $1,000,000 in securities and $30,000 in cash by an employee were confirmed today when Governor John K. Tener, at Harrisburg, decided that so far as the state is concerned, Walter H. Shourds, who is accused of appropriating the money and securities, will be prosecuted, notwithstanding that restitution has been made to the trust company. The company is now known as the Merchants' Union Trust company.

The decision of the governor was made after he had conferred with State's Attorney General John C. Bell, District Attorney Samuel P. Retan of Philadelphia, William H. Smith, state banking commissioner, Clarence L. Harper, of the trust company; George Burnham, Jr., and Edwin G. Lewis, an attorney.

The securities, it is said, were taken from a safe deposit box rented by Mr. Burnham, who is connected with a big locomotive works in this city. Shourds is a fugitive from justice, but it is said in view of restitution having been made the trust company would not press the prosecution. A state law, however, demands that the commonwealth prosecute all such cases, and it is expected that the district attorney, if Shourds is located, will bring him to trial, as he has already been indicted.

Shourds, who was superintendent of the safe deposit vaults of the trust company, fled the country shortly before his crime was discovered. It is reported that he opened communication for the return of the securities and the money through "personals" inserted in New York, Philadelphia and Paris newspapers.

Anyway, the food trust didn't get any of our baseball money.

The cranks are not complimenting Hiram Johnson by shooting at him.

Nobody is tralling Taft. Not even a golf ball has exploded anywhere near him.

If Italy left the Turk "on his last legs" he's making a pretty good showing with them.

One trouble about "the good trusts" is that they're too modest to testify to their goodness.

The doctors having prescribed war, the Sick Man of Europe will have to take his medicine.

The first "Wilson Day" will be November 2; but for all that, November 5 will be crowded with him.

In the campaign strife let not the weather man be forgotten. He has been very good to us for three days.

Some of the campaign songs rhyme badly, but one forgets that, since every democratic chorus has the right ring.

A consoling reflection of the youthful consumer is that there's no hickory nut trust. That would be too hard.

People have ceased to rubber at airships. The present rubber-neck is the result of the elevated cost of living.

Taft's friends predict a landslide for him. It is right that they should do everything they can now to console him.

The doctors have warned the Colonel not to exercise his voice. Too bad. He can't even pitch pillows at the enemy.

President Taft has written an article for a Philadelphia paper. That's timely training for a contributing editor's job.

Nicaragua is wise in disbanding her army. A small handful of men can't stand the strain of working overtime all the time.

France offers $80,000 for a perfectly safe aeroplane. That's a low bid. Such a machine would be worth millions to the world.

Still, they can't blame Turkey for not wanting to spoil the world's geography by accepting their invitation to get off the map.

Notwithstanding the food trust is trying to flag the harvest prosperity trains, they are making the schedules and stopping at all stations.

Perhaps the campaign orators were the more willing to rest up when they heard that Tom Lawson was saving the country again.

Without having made a study of Hamlet Harry Lauder is to play it. But in this he isn't different from certain other actors we could name.

A Missouri hen has a record of 300 eggs in eleven months; but that doesn't help the poor consumer, as she's doubtless a member of the egg trust.

An exchange says the Colonel "had the patience of Job" during his illness. Come to think of it, Job made some strenuous remarks to his comforters.

The leading English suffragettes have been cutting telephone wires. That seems to be the only way to get the gossiping ones to grab their hatchets in time for the parade.

GOV. WILSON AND KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Not a single vote can fairly be cast against Governor Wilson, the democratic nominee for president, because of the remarkable suggestion that he is a Knight of Columbus.

In the first place, he isn't and couldn't be so long as he preserves his present affiliations with the Presbyterian church, because the Knights of Columbus is a fraternal organization composed exclusively of Catholic men.

The most ardent enemy of that highly esteemed church society has no ground for grievance against Governor Wilson on the score of his affiliation with it, for there is absolutely no foundation for the report.

On the other hand, the Knights of Columbus, which society has a membership of 300,000 throughout the country, can have no feeling against Governor Wilson for not joining their order, because he is not even eligible for membership.

Governor Wilson is a staunch Presbyterian, and as a boy attended Princeton university, which has a theological branch devoted to the education of men for the Presbyterian ministry. He could, of course, have no personal interest in or desire for membership in the Knights of Columbus.

Misrepresentation is one of the oldest devices in politics and the campaign lie we have always with us. But if a thing isn't so, it isn't, and no amount of assertion can make it so.

There is no need to discuss here the propriety of bringing into a political discussion a man's religious convictions, or to express any opinion as to whether a Protestant, Catholic or Jew who is otherwise qualified for a high public office should be denied it because of the form of his religious belief. What the voter is mainly concerned in knowing is what the candidate stands for and whether he has the ability, honesty and determination to put into effect those principles of government which he espouses.

If he is a good man and a worthy man no man who believes the constitution of the United States has a right to ask whether he is Catholic, Protestant or Jew.

Fortunately in this government equal opportunities are promised to all; freedom of worship is guaranteed; security of life, liberty and in the pursuit of happiness is pledged under the constitution. There is no state church.

Governor Wilson and Governor Marshall are the nominees of the democratic party, and the millions of democratic voters throughout the country will support them not because of their religious affiliations, but, regardless of personal preference, because they are the duly chosen standard bearers of the people's interests.

In Georgia the democratic voter who remains away for whatever reason is imperilling democratic success. Under the laws of this state the electors must receive a clear majority over all. For each vote cast by a republican, progressive republican, socialist, prohibitionist, socialist-labor, or other candidates, there must be more than one democratic vote.

The national organization is expecting every Georgia democrat to do his duty on November 5.

"ATLANTA AND NEW YORK."

A representative Atlanta business establishment, the Nunnally company, announces that it is about to open an extensive branch establishment in New York city.

Several months ago it was announced that the head of another great Atlanta business concern, Asa G. Candler, was to erect a 24-story building in New York as the eastern headquarters of the Coca-Cola company. That building is now nearing completion.

During the opera season in Atlanta last spring it was announced that if hereafter any one wished to see this greatest of all the world's grand opera aggregations he would have that opportunity only in—New York and Atlanta.

And so the story goes—a wonderful tribute to the increasing importance of Atlanta as the great metropolitan center of the south.

Incident to the announcement of the Nunnally company, it is interesting to mark the progress of the business established by James H. Nunnally twenty-five years ago. He opened a small candy manufacturing establishment in a dark room in the rear of his present retail place on Whitehall street. For five years it was difficult to make buckle and tongue meet, the business affording a bare living and Mr. Nunnally himself being bookkeeper, shipping clerk and taking a large part in the actual making of the candies offered for sale. He was impressed with the idea that any such goods offered for sale in Atlanta could be manufactured just as well here as a thousand miles away. Applying that principle he found the expense as great as the income, with little or no margin for profit. But the idea caught hold after awhile and the public found that Nunnally meant what he said. And then the tide turned and Nunnally began to build great factories.

The boy who came here from Griffin without a penny soon found himself at the head of one of Atlanta's greatest business establishments—a business paying handsome returns on what would justify more than a million and a half capitalization, with several branches in the south and now planning a cool hundred thousand dollars in New York to reach the eastern field—and our word for it, it will not be long before Jim Nunnally shows that he can do, proportionately, in New York just what he has done in Atlanta.

It is an inspiring story of commercial success and another forcible illustration of what is being accomplished by Atlanta pluck, enterprise, activity and integrity.

ONE PHASE OF THE QUESTION.

The deplorable lack of co-ordination in the method of making street improvements in Atlanta is being more strongly emphasized every day.

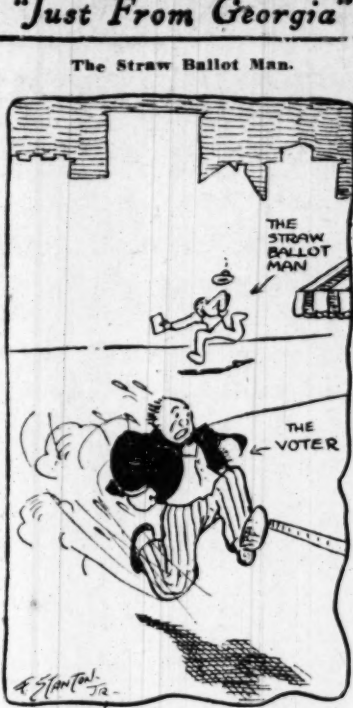

Nobody seems to know whose next move it is, and the various parties interested even to this day are standing around first on one foot and then on the other waiting for something to turn up. Each of the numerous interests affected are generally left to follow their own sweet will without any direction as to when and how they shall co-operate in the general scheme of things.

Take one illustration: Yesterday with the county convicts ready to begin work replacing the pavement on Baker street, the gas company set up a wall that it had not yet laid its mains; that it had stood ready and waiting for weeks, but had not been notified that it could go into the street and complete its work. Thus at the last minute, another delay ensued. To show how quickly this work could have been done long ago with the proper co-operation, the gas company went to work yesterday and laid the pipe in a single day.

In a communication which appears elsewhere on this page today, J. S. Slicer, a well-known Atlanta attorney, representing foreign investors, says the conditions of Atlanta's street work has prevented investments in several promising localities.

That is one phase of the question. What kind of an impression do you suppose is created abroad as to Atlanta municipal administration, by the ship-shop, unorganized, unrelated system of making street improvements? During all the public discussion and severe criticism, no single sensible explanation has been made by any one in authority as to why the present state of affairs exists.

"Just From Georgia"

The Straw Ballot Man.

When I think I'm safely sheltered and I'm takin' down the law, From candidates a-layin' down the law.

The door is swung wide open and lets in a blizzard breeze: 'Tis the fellow with the ballot of the straw!

And it's Run! Run! Run! Like a bullet from a gun!

That kind o' campaign exercise is far away from fun!

"How'll you vote? How'll you vote? Write it down on this here note!"

O, the straw man with the ballot is the chap that gets yer goat!

When I'm comin' out o' meetin', from a sermon mighty long—

The weariest old chap you ever saw, And I hearily like homeward for to hear the dinner-gong.

Comes the fellow with the ballot of the straw!

And it's Wait! Wait! Wait! Who's yer favorite candidate?

"There's forty-seven hundred who are savin' of the state!"

He grips you by the coat: "How'll you vote? How'll you vote?"

O, the straw man with the ballot is the man that gets yer goat!

The Candidate Explains.

The voter interrupted the campaign speaker:

"When you were here last year you said that you had responded to the call to save the country, and that you were going to bring high prices down. Did you do it?"

"My friend," said the speaker, "the campaign mule I had hired kicked me through a barn door, and when I got my legs ag'in prices had gone higher'n I could hop!"

"Just a Little Shopping."

It is the season when campaign orators and candidates have kind words for "the poor, down-trodden farmer." They should read this little local item from a Missouri paper:

"George Aecker, a Geary county farmer, went into Junction City last week 'to do a little shopping,' as he expressed it. After his purchases were two high-priced touring cars for his son and his son-in-law."

His Son's Theory.

De place whar satan livin' at Is in de sun, dey say.

Says the Old Philosopher.

Misery likes company, but I make it a point never to be sociable when he's loafing around.

Sometimes a small office is so much bigger than the man, there's always plenty of room for new furniture.

If Trouble knew anything about it, how it would thank the obliging travelers of this world for always meeting it half-way!

The "howling wilderness" has vanished from the map. It came in too close competition with the office-seeking politicians.

RAIL MOTOR HITS LOG; ENTIRE FAMILY DITCHED

Valdosta, Ga., October 23.—(Special.)

W. C. Wilson, an employee of the Georgia Southern and Florida railroad, his wife and children and Miss Mary and Lucile Ward, sisters of Mrs. Wilson, had a narrow escape from death while riding on a railroad motor car near this city. The car struck a tree across the track in the dark while running rapidly, throwing the entire party headlong to the tracks.

Mr. Wilson is pump inspector on the road and took the members of his family on a trip to Lake Park. On their return they met a southbound passenger train and lifted the car from the track to let the train pass, after which the car was put back and the trip resumed. They had gone but a short distance when they dashed into the log, which, it is believed, was placed across the track after the train had passed. Mr. Wilson is inclined to believe that the wreck of the car and the death of himself and family was planned. A man was seen running away from the point a minute or two before the collision.

Miss Lucile Ward was seriously injured, while her sister, Mary, and Mrs. Wilson were painfully hurt. Mr. Wilson and the children were not injured.

Letters From People

The Practical Side of It.

Editor Constitution: I am very much interested in the fight which you are carrying on for the improvement of the condition of our streets.

I represent the Mortgage-Loan company of New York, for which I have made investments of nearly $1,000,000 in real estate, and am constantly making additional investments for them. I am also president of the Security State bank and the Colonial Investment company, which has prevented investments in these localities.

You will certainly do the citizens of this city a very great benefit if you will continue this fight and not let up until the streets are in satisfactory condition.

Yours very truly,
J. S. SLICER.

Georgia Crops Badly Off.

Editor Constitution: The statement of H. L. Jordan in regard to the condition of Georgia crops is absolutely true. From personal observation on my own farm and from what I know of conditions in DeKalb, Henry, Clayton and Rockdale counties, these counties will not make this year more than 50 per cent of the cotton crop of last year.

Corn is little better off than cotton. A few fields that were planted early and well-tended did fairly well, but those planted in May and later, which were the rule and the exception this year, were as near a failure as any I ever saw. The low bottoms have been completely abandoned to grass and weeds. Fifty per cent of a corn crop is a good estimate for this year. Wheat is a good crop. A custom wheat mill is the best barometer of quantity and quality. I haven't ground one-half the amount I usually do up to this time of year. Presumably the weather conditions prevailing in my section in the spring and summer obtained all over the state.

It is not correct to have the impression go out that we are making a record-breaking crop, when it is not true so far as Georgia is concerned.

T. J. FLAKE.

Another Improbable Street.

Editor Constitution: In the worthy warfare you are waging for a betterment of our street conditions, please don't forget a block and a half of Luckie street from the city hall to a short distance west of the Baptist Tabernacle. This has been in a practically impassable condition for over four months and a scene from this locality was used as an "awful example" in our recent municipal campaign. Respectfully,

GEORGE M. NILES.

SAY THEY WERE HIRED TO SET BARN ON FIRE

Athens, Ga., October 23.—(Special.)—Will Simms and Lindsey Moon, two young negro men, have confessed in the Clarke county jail to the burning of a large barn and more than $2,000 worth of feedstuff and stock belonging to Dr. Deadyler at Carlton in Madison county, several miles from Athens. The burning occurred several weeks ago.

The negroes were arrested last Friday and brought to Athens for safe-keeping. They implicated a white man, William David, when apprehended, and he has been arrested and is out on $7,500 bond. The negroes made a full confession separately Tuesday.

They stated that the white man came to them with the proposition, gave them instructions, and sat by the road near the place while one of the negroes went into the lot of the big barn and fired the fodder and hay.

WAR TELEGRAPHERS ARE AFTER PENSIONS

Jacksonville, Fla., October 23.—The national meeting of the Society of the United States Telegraph Corps met in executive session in Jacksonville today and took up plans for securing pensions from the United States government. For some time members of the organization have been trying to get the government to recognize them as a body and pension the old members, who long ago gave the best years of their lives to the service. It was decided today to draw up a petition which will be presented at the next session of congress, providing for the pensioning of these old military telegraphers.

The old officers of the organization were re-elected at the meeting today for the coming year.

Detroit, Mich., was chosen as the meeting place for the society. A telegram was sent thanking Andrew Carnegie, who founded the society in April, 1861, and who has pensioned many of the members, for his interest shown in their behalf.

CONTINUANCE GRANTED PREACHER VAUGHN

Greenville, S. C., October 23.—A continuance until tomorrow upon the motion of counsel for Rev. Thurston U. Vaughn, charged with assaulting three little girls while he was superintendent of the South Carolina Odd Fellows home last May, was granted when court convened here today. Many witnesses were absent.

The attorneys for the defense also made a motion that the general public be excluded from the courtroom during the trial. The court declared its ruling would be made upon this motion tomorrow. The alleged assault on the girls was made in the presence of the public, fearing the exclusion of the public, fearing a demonstration against the prisoner.

THREATENED TO KILL AND WAS SHOT DEAD

Nashville, Tenn., October 23.—A dispatch from Tiptonville, Lake county, says that James Carrington, 48 and married, a man of some wealth, was shot and killed there near midnight by Phil Wright, 23, at a stand while engaged in a fight with a negro named J. M. Wright, died recently, leaving an estate of $200,000, had been at Carrington's place, 4 miles from Tiptonville, on business for his mother and the men traveled into Tiptonville together. Wright claims that on the way Carrington threatened to kill him and it was just a question which one would be killed. What trouble arose between them is not known.

Pending a preliminary hearing the sheriff has Wright at his home.

Gossip at the Capitol

No Call for Troops.

Governor Brown has not been called upon to send troops to Cumming tomorrow to guard the two negroes who are sentenced to be hanged in Forsyth county for criminal assault. They will be delivered to the sheriff and such deputies as he thinks necessary to guard them. The fact that the penalty demanded by the laws of the state will be exacted of the two negroes has helped to calm the indignation that was aroused over the crime and it is expected that the law will be allowed to take its course.

Asked if he expected to send troops to Forsyth county, Governor Brown said that no request had been made of him and he looked to the local officers to see that the law was carried out.

I have not received any call from the judge of the court or from the sheriff of Forsyth county for troops, he said, "hence I presume that those two officials are taking the proper steps for protecting the process of the court and preserving the peace on the occasion of the execution of the sentence of the court. This they are both under oath to do."

Insurance Company Reinstated.

The Order of the Golden Seal of Forsyth, one of the fraternal insurance organizations which was placed under the ban last week for failure to comply with the requirements of the general insurance law passed by the last legislature, has been reinstated by the insurance commission. The reinstatement was made upon the company's showing the department that on account of misdirected mail from the department the company had failed to receive certain notifications.

General Visits Governor. Brigadier General Robert K. Evans, the new head of the department of the state, will be in the city tomorrow, called upon Governor Brown to pay his official respects to the executive and to the members of the cabinet. General Evans was accompanied by his entire staff in full-dress uniform. They spent about half an hour talking to the governor in his private office.

Reception to Governor.

The members of Governor Brown's staff will tender the governor a reception at the Piedmont Driving Club next Saturday night. The reception will be given in the shape of a banquet, and will be one of the most brilliant affairs of the fall.

Colonel Frederic J. Paxon, chief of the aides-de-camp, will preside as toastmaster. This is the first reception of the governor since he has been mailed out. Among those invited are: Brigadier General Robert K. Evans, Lieutenant Colonel S. W. Dunning, Lieutenant Colonel T. C. Goodman, Captain John J. Ryan, First Lieutenant Hurnaby Evans, S. A. Major George C. Saffarans, U. S. A., Fort Leavenworth; Major E. L. Palmer, Captain James M. Kimbrough, Captain R. E. Spencer, First Lieutenant E. P. King, First Lieutenant E. R. W. McCabe, First Lieutenant J. P. Carr, S. A., J. A. J. attaches of the state of Georgia and the following civilians: Hon. John M. Slaton, Judge V. T. Newman, Clark Howell, R. F. Maddox, C. R. Pendleton, Joseph M. Terrell, James W. English, Sr., and Randolph Anderson.

Money for Teachers.

Governor Brown, on Wednesday morning, drew a warrant upon the state treasury for $108,350, to be distributed among the state teachers. The checks were filled out in the treasury department on Wednesday, and will be mailed out Thursday. This is a 5 per cent payment upon the overdue salaries. The balance of the payment of 10 per cent, and it is expected that a third payment will be made some time in the month of December.

Seaboard Returns $12,554,000.

The arbitration board, consisting of C. Murphy Candier, chairman of the railroad commission, and J. W. Woodward, of Valdosta, for the state, and Thad C. Hammond for the road, sitting on the question of the tax returns of the Seaboard Air Line railroad for 1912, on Wednesday rendered its decision, awarding a return of $12,554,000. The decision of the board is final, and the Seaboard will have to pay taxes based upon these figures. The award raises the returns made by the road by $1,811,844, and cuts the assessment of Controller General W. A. Wright, who declined to accept the figures submitted by the road by $485,845.

WOULD-BE BOY BANDITS TELL SURPRISING STORY

Dallas, Texas, October 23.—Two would-be boy bandits, who claim to be from Chicago, told a surprising story in the children's court here today. The boys, Joe Zimba, 14, and Bruce Swentkowski, aged 13, were arrested two days ago at Mesquite, Texas, where, mounted on horses and armed with three six-shooters between them, they were given their best exhibition of shooting up a small town.

In court today they said they had started their career last month in $800 which they stole from a little store on Sacramento avenue in Chicago. They identified this store as belonging to the mother of Elmer McMillan. They said they took a small safe out of the store and rifled it in a railroad yard.

Probation Officer Leeman has sent word to the Chicago police and meanwhile is holding the boys until he hears from Chicago.

TUBERCULOSIS PICTURES WILL BE SHOWN TODAY

Announcement was made at yesterday's session of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs at the Auditorium of the exhibition of moving pictures to be given at the Montgomery theater, for the benefit of the visiting and Atlanta club women, this morning from 9 to 10 o'clock. This exhibition, dealing with tuberculosis and methods of prevention, has been arranged by the theater management free of cost for the Anti-Tuberculosis association, and every club woman in Atlanta is cordially invited to attend. The hour has been so arranged as not to interfere with the meetings at the Auditorium.

The association began last night its exhibition of tuberculosis pictures at Five Points, from 6 to 9 o'clock, and will continue this throughout the week.

RACE TRACK STILL HELD BY THE STATE TROOPS

Chicago, October 23.—Both sides in the fight waged by the state of Indiana to close the Mineral Springs race track, near Porter, Ind., rested today, but the race track men were making preparations to reopen the contest. The state troops retained possession of the property under orders to prevent racing. Today's schedule of races was called off.

Owners and promoters decided to bring suit against the state for $100,000 damages alleged to have been sustained when the races were stopped by the troops yesterday. Plans also were made for filing an application for an injunction to prevent the state from interfering further with the track. Several strings to other tracks, to ship the horses to other tracks.

NO MORE FEVER CASES AT THE STATE NORMAL

Athens, Ga., October 23.—(Special.)—The epidemic of fever at the state normal school, about which numerous exaggerated reports have gone out, is about over. A week ago a case of fever developed and was isolated. The next day or two developed other cases and as rapidly as abnormal fever was shown the patient was sent home for treatment. Reports from these homes are excellent, no serious case being reported. Between thirty and forty young women were thus sent to their respective homes. All the cases developed within one week. There are no further cases now being discovered.

A peculiar feature about the epidemic was that out of thirty young men who ate the same food, drank the same water and milk and room in the same neighborhood, not one was affected; not a single one of the thirty servants took the disease; not a member of the family was touched, and not a girl who lives in the town and attends the institution was taken ill.

CLARKE GRAND JURY GETS AFTER RAILROADS

Athens, Ga., October 23.—(Special.)—The grand jury of Clarke county, which this morning made known its general presentments through the official organ of the county without their being read in open court—a proceeding made necessary by the sudden illness of Judge Brand—recommended that the senator and representatives of this district and county introduce a bill to perfect the law which requires railroads to stop to comply with the arrival of delayed trains. They presented for prosecution the Southern, the Georgia and the Central, three of the five roads entering Athens, for as many cases as will be necessary to force the roads to comply with the law—unless in sixty days the roads fully comply with the law of their own motion.

PICKPOCKETS REAPING BIG HARVEST AT FAIR

Macon, Ga., October 23.—(Special.)—Despite the vigilance of the police, the pickpockets are reaping a rich harvest from the visitors to the state fair, and it is usually the man who has the big wad that is the loser. How the thieves manage to spot the fat pocketbook is not known, but the fact remains that every case reported so far shows a heavy loss.

T. R. Williams, of Copper Hill, Tenn., was just in the act of stepping on a Southern railway train, when two men pushed him in the crowd. He felt his wallet being taken from him, but before he could prevent it the men had vanished in the crowd.

J. F. Henderson, of Wrightsville, Ga., came to the fair yesterday with his six children. He had $24 in money, six railroad tickets and six passes to the fair grounds in his pocketbook. In the rush at the central depot the pocketbook was stolen.

Another case was reported last night in which a man was robbed of $110. His name was not secured.

Two countrymen reported that they were held up in the toilet room at the Southern railway depot yesterday morning and made to shell out their valuables.

MERCER COLLEGE PUPIL INTRODUCES HIS BRIDE

Macon, Ga., October 23.—(Special.)—News of the wedding of Roswell B. West, a senior at Mercer university, and Miss Kathleen Bush, a pupil in the Chase Musical Conservatory at Columbus, has just been known, despite the fact that the ceremony was performed last June.

Mrs. West came to Macon yesterday to see her husband and also to attend the fair, and it was then that the Mercer man introduced his bride to some of his classmates and they were taken completely by surprise. It is said that some of the relatives of the young woman have known of her marriage, but nothing was said of it in order that both might continue their studies.

Mr. West expects to graduate from Mercer and then he and his

BECKER'S FATE RESTS WITH JURY

As Soon As Judge Golf Delivers Charge Today.

Lawyers Spent Four Hours Arguing Case—Becker's Countenance Immobile During Argument.

New York, October 23.—The fate of Police Lieutenant Becker, who is charged with the murder of the gambler, Herman Rosenthal, will rest with the jury tomorrow. Counsel for both sides completed today their summing up, and all that remained to close the case when adjournment was taken tonight was Justice Coffey's charge to the jury to be delivered tomorrow morning.

Becker sat throughout the day with almost immobile countenance. He heard himself characterized by John P. McIntyre, his chief counsel, as the victim of a conspiracy plotted by Jack Rose, "the sell of the assassins," and by Assistant District Attorney Moss as "the brains behind the gunmen, with a tremendous motive for murder." What emotions he may have felt were masked by perfect control of his features.

The defense centered its attack on the state's case almost wholly on Rose's testimony, which Mr. McIntyre denounced as unworthy of belief because "Jack Rose testified to save himself from the electric chair. He characterized the corroborating witnesses as 'crooks and murderers,' the state's case he summed up with a declaration that District Attorney Whitman, actuated by ambition, 'had fathered a prosecution framed up by crooks.'"

Becker's Attorney Shook Fist. Mr. Moss warmly resented the implication that Mr. Whitman had any other motive than duty for seeking the conviction of Becker, and denounced "the vilification of counsel for the defense" as revealing the "desperate straits to which he has come." Mr. Moss accused Mr. McIntyre of misrepresenting the evidence to the jury, imputing Becker's attorney to jump to his feet and shake his fist in the face of his opponent as he uttered an indignant denial.

The lawyers spent four hours each in summing up the evidence. "If Becker did not have a motive for the murder, why did he want to get an affidavit from Rose two days after Rosenthal was read?" Mr. Moss asked. "The truth is Becker did not know how things would go. He saw the possibility that Rose might be a witness against him, and he got an affidavit from Rose to silence him. He got Rose to swear his own life away, so that he couldn't testify against him in this case."

"Sam Schepers," Mr. Moss conceded, "was an accessory after the fact, but had come forward to testify against him in this case."

Why, asked the prosecutor, if Becker had no interest in the case, did he visit the police station where Rosenthal's body was lying? Becker was off duty. What reason did he have to go there?

The Alleged Conspiracy. Mr. Moss declared that the defense had dwelt throughout the trial upon an alleged conspiracy to murder Rosenthal, founded on the hatred of the underworld, but had not introduced a shred of proof that any such conspiracy had existed. Mr. McIntyre had examined Jack Rose, Bridget Weber and Harry Vallon as to conversations with various persons concerning this alleged plot, but had failed to produce these persons as witnesses, Mr. Moss declared.

Answering Mr. McIntyre's declaration that the four gunmen, yet to be tried, might go free, even if Becker were convicted, Mr. Moss said: "Have no fear that they will ever meet these four men on Broadway. We have not disclosed our entire case against them yet, and you need not be afraid of meeting Rose, Weber and Vallon there, either, after this trial is over. Their friends, the gunmen of the underworld, will take care of that."

For the character of his witnesses, Mr. Moss offered no apology. He declared, however, that if the district attorney had not accepted the testimony of the four informers, Rose, Weber, Vallon and Schepers, all ten men connected with the case would now be at large.

SLEW TO SAVE LIFE CAMP TELLS JURY

Brooding Over Mysterious Letter Caused Belding to Attack Him, Says Officer on Trial.

A mysterious letter, over which Policeman S. A. Belding brooded for days, played an important part in the killing of that officer by Policeman J. Wesley Camp, according to the story of the slayer, told to the jury yesterday afternoon.

"The letter seemed to worry him badly," declared Camp, "and put him in such a frame of mind that he started the quarrel which ended in his own death."

"Belding jerked my chair out from under me and kicked me as I lay on the floor," Camp told the jury. "As I started to rise, he threatened me with a large pocket knife, and then we both reached for our pistols, which were lying on the bureau top. I got mine first and saved my own life by taking him. He was enraged about the letter, and quarreled with me over a trivial matter."

Case Goes to Jury Today. The case was closed Wednesday afternoon, and this morning the arguments of the attorneys will begin. By noon, or shortly after, Camp's fate will be in the hands of the jury. He will receive no verdict heavier than that of voluntary manslaughter is the opinion of many who have followed closely the evidence.

Following the evidence of Dr. T. D. Longino that, a week prior to the murder, he had treated Camp for delirium tremens, the defense sent up a score of witnesses to prove the defendant's good character. Congressman William Schley Howard, among the most important of these.

An attempt by the state to put forth the slain man's good character was opposed by the defending attorneys, and Judge Roan finally ruled against it.

Slayer Was Intoxicated. Evidence to show that Camp killed his roommate while in a drunken frenzy was brought by the state. Several officers, newspaper men and Deputy Sheriff Plennie Miner, who talked with Camp immediately following the shooting, testified that he was intoxicated. Chief Beavers said that he did not give him that impression.

Camp's claim is that, after he had killed the man, he took a heavy drink to steady his nerves, and evidence was brought to show that he had time in which to do this before the arrival of police whom he had called.

Attorney J. A. Branch, law partner of John Moore, went on the stand to tell of finding a knife in the room on the Sunday after the killing. Police officers denied having seen such a knife when they searched the room shortly after their arrival the day before.

Miss Lena Valentine, a stenographer, and W. R. Edwards, her employer, who had no interest in the case, were called to the stand to testify that Camp and Belding's room at 49½ Central avenue, were not called upon, although both were summoned by the state.

Camp's Statement to Jury. Camp's statement was, in part, as follows: "Belding received a letter about three days before the killing, and it seemed to worry him more than anything I'd ever seen. He read it over three or four times each day."

"On the morning of the shooting I came home, and Belding had the letter in his hands; he had been reading it, and shortly after I came in he tore it up and tossed it in the fireplace, remarking that the man (he used a vile name) who wrote that letter was lower down than a nigger in hell; but he did not tell me what was in the letter."

"I paid no particular attention to him, although I had never seen anything like him, and soon he began to sweep the floor, and asked me to move a table for him. I replied that I would in a minute, and he asked me how long I was going to sit there. I told him we had all day in which to clear the room."

"You must expect a piece of calico in here," I told him, and then began what I thought was a good-natured rally between two friends."

Then Enters Woman. "He told me that he didn't police like some, in back yards, and I told him, laughing, that the ladies I went front door."

"He again told me to get up and help clean the room, and I told him he'd better move to the Piedmont, where he wouldn't have to clean his room."

"At that he became enraged and rushed at me and jerked the chair out from under me and kicked me in the ribs, and threatened to kill me with a knife he held in his hand. He called me a vile name and said he would blow out my brains, and we both reached for our pistols, lying on the top of the bureau. Belding had the knife in his hand at the time. I got my gun first and killed him before he could kill me."

"That's how it happened, gentlemen," Camp wound up. "We'd been friends for years, and this was the first trouble we'd ever had."

C. C. HOOKS IS BURIED BY PARENTS' GRAVES

Dublin, Ga., October 23.—(Special).—The funeral of C. C. Hooks, who shot himself last night at the home of his brother here, occurred at 3 o'clock this afternoon, the interment being beside the graves of his father and mother.

A fuller investigation of the affair seems to indicate that the act was intentional, although no good reason can be found why he should take his life. He went into his room, removed his coat and hung it in its usual place, started the pillows from the bed and lay down across it diagonally, hung his feet over the edge, laid his left arm by his side, and then put the pistol to his head and fired a shot through his right temple, the ball going clear through the brain on the other side. His right arm was laid carefully across his body, the pistol being still in his hand when he was found.

CITY PLAN URGED BY BUSINESS MEN

Chamber Committee Recommends Commission to Study Needs.

The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce will ask the mayor and general council for a commission of 100 leading men to study the needs of the city and secure a permanent plan to be adopted by the municipal government. They will suggest that the body be called the Atlanta improvement commission.

This recommendation was agreed upon Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of the committee on city plan, composed of some of the ablest men in the city, and will undoubtedly be approved by the directors.

Those present were Wilmer L. Moore, president; Alex W. Smith, chairman, and the following members: V. H. Krieger, John W. Grant, Thomas Morgan, J. N. Hazlehurst, George M. Brown, W. G. Cooper and Haralson Bleckley.

President Calls Meeting. The meeting was called at the instance of President Moore, who has been making a study of this subject, and is an earnest advocate of the adoption of a plan to be made by a competent commission.

Mr. Moore, in stating the object of the meeting, called attention to the fact that a city plan is not a mere matter of ornamentation, but includes all the vital necessities of the city, such as adequate terminal facilities, ample thoroughfares for traffic, proper grades and construction of highways, full sanitary equipment, with due attention to housing problems. The question of architectural beauty is a feature incident to a general plan.

Thomas Morgan said the Atlanta Chapter of Architects is ready to co-operate with the chamber and to do a great deal of the detail work if it was secured to employ some city planner of great experience from a distance. Haralson Bleckley, president of the chapter, spoke along the same lines.

Engineers' Offer Aid. J. N. Hazlehurst, chairman of the chamber committee on engineering, said the Atlanta chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers would be glad to contribute their part to the work.

Mr. Hazlehurst showed what a vital thing a city plan is and how it deals most with utilitarian matters, which involve the necessities of life as well as the comforts and even concerns life itself through provisions for hygienic living. The committee was so much impressed with Mr. Hazlehurst's talk that he was requested to furnish a copy for publication.

To crystallize the sense of the meeting, Mr. Moore moved that the chamber of commerce be asked to undertake the initiation of a campaign looking to the adoption of a city plan to be brought about through a commission of 100 to be appointed by the mayor, under a resolution of council.

Grant Second Motion. John W. Grant, formerly chairman of the city finance committee, seconded the motion, which was cordially supported by Mr. Krieger and Mr. Cooper, and unanimously adopted by the committee.

Mr. Bleckley suggested that the committee of 100 be called a city improvement commission, and Alex W. Smith proposed to make it the Atlanta improvement commission. This was accepted by Mr. Bleckley and his motion was unanimously adopted.

Mr. Hazlehurst then moved that the secretary be requested to correspond with the Russell Sage Foundation with a view to securing a city survey of Atlanta, and this motion was unanimously adopted.

On Wrists and Hands. Ears Red and Swollen. Terrible Itching. Heel Would Crack. Could Not Sleep. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured All Troubles.

Belton, Ga.—"Some time ago my feet and ears were frost bitten, which troubled me very much every winter. My ears would turn red and swell, with terrible itching and my head would ache. I had a severe scalp trouble and also a breaking out on my wrists and hands which would itch and burn until I could not sleep at night. There was an eruption on my scalp with dandruff. I had to keep my hair clipped close to keep down the irritation and itching. I tried several remedies and cream and two treatments of Cuticura which did me no good. Then I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I am now cured of all my troubles." (Signed) J. S. Echols, Mar. 12, 1912.

WANT RESTORATION OF OLD WATER RATE

Reduction Would Aid in Bringing New Plants to Atlanta, Declare Leading Manufacturers.

The agitation started by manufacturers to have the minimum 7-cent water rate restored has been reopened. At a meeting of the water commission yesterday afternoon Oscar Elsas, vice president of one of Atlanta's cotton mills, and James C. Gentry, representing an ice manufacturing, declared that the rates were excessive, and should be lowered to encourage industry.

A comparative statement of expenditures and cost of pumpage—one based on figures taken from the annual report of Superintendent Smith and the other by the manufacturers—shows a difference of $147,836.62. The city includes in its statement of expenditures an item of cost taxes amounting to $77,107.50, to which the manufacturers object because the city pays no taxes.

Advance of 15 Per Cent. The cost should be about $49 a million feet, according to manufacturers. The rate at present is claimed to be an advance of 15 per cent over the rate since 1910.

Manufacturers, through the sliding rate in force, are getting the advantage of a comparatively cheap water rate. There is a difference of half a cent in the cost of every 1,000 gallons.

The city waterworks plant has piled up profits. Aside from the water furnished the city and county, charitable institutions and others, the available dividend is $97,072 for a year.

The city should operate the waterworks plant to give the taxpayers the benefit of low rates, and afford service to the manufacturers that would serve to bring others here. It was asserted that if the waterworks were operated by a private corporation there would be a reduction of at least 47 per cent.

Taxes Are Included. The city claims that it costs $75.94 to deliver a million gallons, but the consumers declare that the rate is arrived at by the city including $77,107.50 for taxes and $5,000 for at-

WIFE CONFESSES SHAME TO SAVE HER HUSBAND

San Diego, Cal., October 23.—Mrs. Hubert Lewis, whose husband is on trial here for the alleged murder of C. H. Toliver and his wife, declared on the witness stand today that the killing of the Tolivers, who were wealthy and had given employment to Lewis, was the sequel to a criminal attack upon her in which Toliver had been aided by his wife.

The assault occurred at the Toliver home while Lewis was away on business. Mrs. Lewis testified that when she related the circumstances to her husband on his return his rage deprived him temporarily of reason and he sought out the Tolivers and shot both to death.

Mrs. Lewis broke down frequently during her recital. She told the jury that Mrs. Toliver confessed to her she had participated in the assault because she feared her husband was about to leave her.

At the conclusion of the direct examination Lewis broke away from his attorneys and rushed to the witness stand, where for some minutes he and his wife wept, clasped in each other's arms.

Lee-Rogers Wedding.
On Tuesday evening, the 22d, Miss Sarah Lee, of Abbeville, S. C., was married to Mr. Z. B. Rogers, of Elberton, Ga., at Trinity Episcopal church, Abbeville. Miss Lee was attended by her sister, Mrs. Lewis T. Bryant, of Atlantic City, as matron of honor and by Miss Grace Smith, of Abbeville, who was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Misses Pola Seider, May Robinson, Elizabeth McBee and Carolyn Rogers.

Mr. Rogers was attended by Mr. Robert C. Alston, of Atlanta, as best man, and the groomsmen were Messrs. Albert Henry, Lewis Perrin, H. G. Smith and James H. Howell.

Masters Lewis Lee Bryant and John Bryant were ribbon-bearers.

The beautiful old church was resplendent with most artistic decorations.

After the wedding a beautiful reception was tendered by the bride's mother, Mrs. William Augustus Lee, at her lovely old colonial residence.

Among the Atlanta people in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Harris and Mr. John Martin and a number of Mr. Rogers' friends from Elberton came over to witness the ceremony.

Davis-Durham.
The marriage of Miss Pearl Davis and Mr. Ernest Durham was a beautiful event of last evening, taking place at 9 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Davis, on Peachtree street.

The whole reception floor was made a bower of green with smilax, palms and ferns. Tall vases filled with white and pink chrysanthemums added to an artistic decoration.

The ceremony took place in the drawing room, where the bridal party stood before an altar of palms, ferns and white chrysanthemums. On either side of the altar were tall pedestals wreathed in smilax and capped with huge bunches of white chrysanthemums.

The bride entered with her father, and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Harvey Hill. Miss Mary McMillan was maid of honor and Miss Willie Mae Blair, of Marietta, was bridesmaid. Mr. Don K. Johnston was groomsmen and Misses Lamar Slaton and Marian Woolley were attendants. Little Misses May Prim and Margaret Wade were the ribbon-bearers.

The impressive ceremony was performed by Dr. Julius W. Millard, assisted by Dr. Arthur Hale Gordon.

The bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white chamoisee satin, hand-embroidered and trimmed in seed pearls and duchess lace.

Her tulle veil was caught with natural orange blossoms and fell in graceful folds, outlining the court train, and she wore a necklace of diamonds and pearls, the gift of the groom. Her flowers were a shower of bride roses and valley lilies.

Miss McMillan wore a gown of pink chamoisee, veiled in pink embroidered chiffon and having pearl and crystal trimmings, and she carried pink roses and valley lilies. Miss Blair wore pink chamoisee veiled in pink chiffon, and she carried pink roses.

Miss Woolley was gowned in pink chamoisee with overdress of pink embroidered marquisette, and Miss Slaton wore pink chiffon over pink chamoisee and both carried pink roses.

HEADS GEORGIA FEDERATION

Of Athens, Ga., president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, now in convention in Atlanta.

MRS. PENNYBACKER DISCUSSES DANGERS TO AMERICAN HOME

Indifference of the American father to his responsibility in the welfare of the child; over-anxiety of the mother in what she considers the conscientious duty toward her children; carelessness pertaining to the girls of the present moment in the preparation which should be given them for life, and a lack of the right kind of patriotism, were the dangers which threaten the American home, as enumerated by Mrs. Percy Pennybacker, president of the General Federation, in a brilliant address which she made before the Georgia State Federation last night.

Mrs. Pennybacker, since her election to the leadership of the general federated movement, has been traveling extensively through the states where the federated movement is active, and she declared in her introductory remarks that no state federation is doing more broadly active work than Georgia.

Praise for Georgia Women.
"Having been with you at the three sessions today and met with the women workers, I can realize why Georgia has accomplished so much," she said. "You combine the qualities of grace and charm which were dominant in the woman of the old south, with the cosmopolitanism and vigor of the new south and the combination is the highest ideal of American womanhood and I can but see that a factor in the successful work of your federated women is that you seem to be so ably aided by the men."

Mrs. Pennybacker then reasoned that though each state had its own peculiar problems to work out, that the women of the nation at large had certain common interests, and that of these she would speak.

The indifference of the American father, which she mentioned as the first danger, was frequently an unconscious state on his part. He seemed to feel justified in putting all the responsibility on the mother. He would give generously of his earnings, generously of all he possessed to his children for their education, their pleasure, but when it came to his time or any responsibility, he was not always generous, and frequently intolerant, when through his indifference the child was a disappointment. Especially toward the son did she think the father should have special care.

The Over-Anxious Mother.
The over-anxious mother was another danger, for it endangered the peace and happiness of the home when the mother made the feeding of the baby and the care of the children a burden rather than the joy of life. "Girls," said Mrs. Pennybacker, "girls who are pushed into young ladyhood and matrimony unprepared are among the greatest dangers threatening the home."

"The period of girlhood is a time when certain training can be given that can never be given afterwards, and it is cruel to push the girl into the obligations of life before she is ready for them."

Mrs. Pennybacker here exposed the ridiculous custom of sending girls to Europe who are unprepared to travel and with inexperienced people. She deplored the fashion in which young girls are permitted to dress; their wearing of extravagant toilets, false hair and jewels.

Readjust Curriculum.
She urged mothers to work for the readjustment of the school curriculum which would require that girls be trained in the basic training of home-making and housekeeping, and of the proper use of money. She believed that much unhappiness came from the fact that the average daughter of well-to-do parents is never taught the value of money.

The last danger she mentioned which threatened the American home was the lack of patriotism of the right kind, not the old ideal that patriotism consisted merely of the training of men for war and the willingness of women to sacrifice men to war, but that men, rather than women, too, should be trained to know as well the principles of civic duty, the love of country in the sense of community helpfulness.

A beautiful tribute was paid by Mrs. A. O. Granger to the memory of Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker.

Ex-Presidents Presented.
The ex-presidents of the state federation were introduced, each briefly telling the story of her regime, thus giving the history of the federated club movement, rich in good deeds.

The presidents were Mrs. J. Lindsay Johnson, Mrs. James Jackson, Mrs. A. O. Granger, Mrs. M. A. Lipscomb and Mrs. Hugh Willet.

A telegram was read from Mrs. Julian Harris, formerly state editor of the club woman's page, now a resident of New York, expressing her great regret at not being present at the meeting. A response was sent to her regretting her absence.

SOCIETY

Beautiful Reception.

Mrs. Charles J. Haden was the beautiful and gracious hostess at the reception given yesterday afternoon at the Capital City club in compliment to the City Federation of Clubs, the honor guests being Mrs. Percy Pennybacker, president of the General Federation, and Mrs. H. C. White, president of the State Federation, and the visiting delegates. Besides the hospitality of the occasion and the opportunity afforded the club women to meet socially, there was the feature of a group of operatic selections by that brilliantly talented Georgia artist, Mrs. Carthew Yorston. She was accompanied by the orchestra.

There were three hundred guests entertained, the ball room of the club the scene of the assemblage. Palms and ferns were added to the decorative attractiveness of the ball room, the same decorations continuing in the hall and in the salon adjoining.

Coffee was served in the smaller room from a table artistically adorned with flowers, and in the salon punch was served. The table here was decorated with flowers, pink roses prevailing.

FUNERAL OF MRS. GRAY TO BE CONDUCTED TODAY

The body of Mrs. E. Pauline Gray, whose death occurred in Nice on September 23, after an operation for peritonitis at the Clinique St. Marguerite hospital, reached Atlanta yesterday, accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Austell; her cousin, Mrs. Mary Lou Blank, and her brother, Harry Gray. Mrs. Austell was with her daughter at the time of her death and Mrs. Blank has lived with her for the past three years.

Mrs. Gray is remembered by her friends in Atlanta as one of the most beautiful and charming women of the state, loved by all who knew her for her thoughtful consideration and unflinching kindness to everyone. Her talent for art was marked, and this finally persuaded her to take up her abode in France, where the pursuit of this study proved a source of great pleasure and profit to her.

She was highly connected with some of the most prominent and influential people of the state, being a granddaughter of Colonel Lewis Tumlin, of Bartow county, and of Colonel John W. Gray, of Adairsville. The funeral services will be conducted by Dr. H. B. Walker and Dr. R. O. Flinn at Patterson's chapel at 3 o'clock this afternoon, the pallbearers being her cousins, Colonel L. W. Rountree, J. W. Austin, Dr. W. S. Goldsmith, Paul Goldsmith, Turner Goldsmith and T. J. Lyon.

The sympathy of their friends is being extended to Mr. and Mrs. Austell and relatives in their great bereavement.

J. E. REEVES, OF VAUGHN, IS ROBBED AND BEATEN

With blood streaming from a deep gash in his face and unable to speak coherently except to say that he had been beaten and robbed, a well-dressed white man stumbled into Ney's pharmacy, under the Washington street viaduct on Decatur street, shortly before midnight and collapsed on the counter. He was taken to the Grady hospital, where it was said his wounds are not serious.

He was identified as J. E. Reeves, of Vaughn, who registered at the El hotel, on Decatur, near Pryor street. He is apparently about 30 years old. Reeves remembered that he had been attacked and robbed of $25, according to his dazed statements, but where it occurred he could not say.

COUNTERFEIT $10 NOTES PAINTED BY ARTIST

Chicago, October 23.—Louis Gagner, who turned his talent as an artist into the painting of $10 counterfeit government notes, was sentenced today to serve one year in the United States prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., after he had admitted his guilt. He will start for prison at once.

Gagner told the court he had painted the notes so that he could support his wife and child when he found he could not sell his pictures. The federal authorities declared the notes were so well executed that it had been difficult to discover their sources.

SMITH DEFENDS

DR. S. W. MERRITT

Charges Made Against Conduct of Sanitarium Are Explained.

The investigation of the city sanitarium for tubercular patients at Battle Hill will result in an enlightening of the city as to a practical, necessary and extensive work being done there, and will be a complete vindication for the institution and the superintendent, Dr. S. W. Merritt, says Dr. Claude Smith, well-known physician and city bacteriologist, who is a member of the board of trustees.

The investigation was ordered following complaints from several sources that it was not being run right, and Tuesday there came to light a charge that Dr. Merritt had stifled the cries of a young child with a pillow placed over its mouth. Dr. Merritt at once admitted that this was the truth, but made the following explanation through Dr. Smith last night:

Child Not Tubercular.

"The child is not tubercular and is at the sanitarium only because the mother is there and had no other place to put her. She is very wilful and untrained, and when the least restrained will break into a paroxysm of screaming and weeping. The nurse for the children, a most excellent woman, confessed that she could not manage the child and called me in."

"At this time the entire sanitarium was aroused. The mother, in the women's ward, heard the screaming and when I asked for advice, told me to beat the child. This is against one of the strictest rules of the institution, as I told her. Failing in every gentle attempt, I at last placed a pillow over the child's mouth, not as a punishment, certainly not in a way to injure her or to stifle her, merely to muffle the sounds."

The public should suspend judgment until the true facts are known. The committee will go into the workings of the institution with thoroughness, and that will be the time for a verdict to be reached, a verdict which I in no wise fear will be unfavorable."

Probe Begins Early.

The investigation begins Friday, Councilman W. G. Humphrey acting as chairman, and will be open. Alderman Arthur Van Dyke, who took a leading part in demanding an investigation of the sanitarium, has uttered charges to the effect that pork and wolverine was fed to the patients.

Dr. P. J. Kennedy, city health officer, said Wednesday that he did not think much of the charges against Superintendent Merritt.

METROPOLITAN CLUB ENJOYS DUTCH SUPPER

Members of the Metropolitan club were entertained at a Dutch supper last night, and between 500 and 600 guests assembled in the big ballroom. W. M. Stevenson, president, presided as toastmaster, and among those making speeches were Mark Bolding, treasurer; Alderman James B. Everett, secretary, and Messrs. Dabney, Caldwell, Voorhees and others.

In Secretary Everett's report it was shown that during the past year there has been paid out to members of the club nearly $5,000 in time of death and sickness, which is one of the prominent features of the club organization. Mr. Everett also read from The Constitution a statement from Councilman W. G. Humphrey in relation to the club, which he characterized a workingman's organization of high standing, and asked every member to write Mr. Humphrey a personal letter of thanks.

A delightful menu was served, and the affair was most enjoyable.

ATLANTA SOCCERS
PLAY SATURDAY

The Atlanta soccer football players are busy practicing every day, preparing for the game Saturday afternoon at Piedmont park.

Soccer is in its infancy in the south, but the game is taking hold rapidly, and in a few years will probably rival football.

The Atlanta team won all its games last year, and the championship of the south in soccer as well. They hope to continue their good record this season.

The regular weekly meeting of the local club will be held at Spalding's store tonight at 8 o'clock. Final preparations for the game Saturday will be made.

STONE MOUNTAIN
PLAYS TECH SCRUBS

While the regular Tech team is away from Atlanta on Saturday playing the University of Florida in Jacksonville, the scrubs will hold forth at the Flats.

Coach Graham's lads from Stone Mountain will be their opponents. The game will be started promptly at 3 o'clock.

This game should be a corker. Last year the scrubs were only able to win by the score of 5 to 0, and the mountain lads are said to have a much better team this year.

ONLY FOUR PLAYERS OUT OF BROTHERHOOD

Only four players of the sixteen big league clubs have not joined the new players' organization, but they are expected to sign up shortly.

The four men are Rube Benton of Cincinnati, Eddie Plank of Philadelphia, Art Shaffer of New York, and Harry McCormick of New York.

There are now 233 players in the organization.

MERCER-STETSON
GAME AT WAYCROSS

Waycross, Ga., October 23.—(Special)—All details for the playing of the annual football game between Mercer and Stetson universities were closed today and the game will be staged in Waycross Saturday. The teams will arrive in Waycross early Saturday and will furnish one of the closest games ever witnessed in this section of the state.

Waycross wants to make the Mercer-Stetson game an annual event and efforts will be made Saturday to close a contract for the game for a period of at least five years. Good grounds have been established here, and the territory surrounding Waycross will furnish a splendid crowd for the game.

R. W. Edenfield, chairman of the Mercer Athletic council, was in Waycross today to make arrangements for the game and has gotten everything in shape for the event.

This will be the first big football game played in this city, and fans are keenly awaiting the day for the game. It is estimated that the attendance will be as large as that at any game played in the larger cities.

FOGEL ASKED TO SELL
PHILADELPHIA CLUB

Philadelphia, October 23.—Jefferson Livingston, of Cincinnati, today held a conference here with Horace Fogel, president of the Philadelphia National league baseball club, at which the purchase of the club was discussed, but no agreement was reached. Mr. Livingston says he made a cash offer not far below the million mark.

During the past week Fogel has received a number of offers, some of which he says were satisfactory from a cash point of view, but not entirely so in other respects.

RESERVE LIST

Twenty-Eight Players on Local Roster—Other Clubs Give List.

In accordance with the constitution of the national association, a complete list of players reserved by the eight money monarchs of the Southern association has been filed with Secretary J. H. Farrell.

In addition to containing the names of 170 more or less ambitious artisans, draws back the monetary crutches and reveals the fact that Atlanta, with twenty-eight players, including six who bear the stigma of suspension, tops the field in the matter of corralled players.

It also shows that Memphis and Chattanooga, with eighteen athletes apiece, are the lowest in this respect. Mobile, with twenty-six, follows Atlanta, the leader, with New Orleans, twenty-five, Birmingham, twenty, Nashville, nineteen, and Montgomery, nineteen, following in the order named.

As the early list of reservations was drawn up before the completion of the minor league draft, the list is consequently not complete. The magnates are given time to file corrections, omissions or substitutions.

Calls Attention to Limits.

The secretary of the association, in a letter to the various managers, calls attention to article 20, section 2, of the new constitution, which provides that class A clubs shall not have more than twenty-eight players under contract or reservation at any one time. Not more than five suspended players shall be carried on any reserve list. Every player to whose services a club has claim should be included in the list. Suspended, ineligible, purchased and drafted players. Players sold to or drafted by major league clubs should not be included in the list.

The reserve list of the Atlanta club is as follows:

Charles A. Alperman, P. M. McEllen, Harry L. Bailey, David J. Callahan, Stanley Graham, J. H. Reynolds, Harold Wolfe, Charles Becker, James W. Brady, G. E. Price, C. Vedor Sutton, Rufus W. Waldorf, Lyman Johnson, Charles Stetson, Tommy Atkins, Harry Weiner, Walter Keating, J. Nixon, G. H. Bausewein, W. H. Malcolmson, Wallace Smith, H. Curtis Coleman (suspended), W. Johns (suspended), J. J. Bracken (suspended), E. D. Dunlap (suspended), William Dyer (suspended), Jake Henn (suspended).

All-Star Teams.

An all-star team from each of the major leagues, chosen from the official holding averages, would show the following line-ups:

American—Combs, Athletics, pitcher, average 1.90; Gaddy, Boston, catcher, .988; Stovall, St. Louis, first base, .985; Lajoie, Cleveland, second base, .985; Turner, Cleveland, third base, .956; McBride, Washington, shortstop, .942; Strunk, Athletics, center field, .942; Moeller, Washington, left field, .977; Crawford, Detroit, right field, .984.

National League—Pick of 11 pitchers fielding at 1.00; Gibson, Pittsburgh, catcher, .993; Sauer, Chicago, first base, .968; Egan, Cincinnati, second base, .968; Wagner, Pittsburgh, shortstop, .950; Herzog, New York, third base, .945; Moran, Brooklyn, left field, .974; Donlin, Pittsburgh, center field, .973; Murray, New York, right field, .968.

FRENCH CHAMPION BEATEN BY PAPKE

Evident in First Few Rounds That Carpenter Was No Match for American.

Paris, October 23.—Billy Papke, the middleweight fighter of Illinois, tonight defeated the French champion, Georges Carpenter. The Frenchman quit after the seventh round, at the weighing-in, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Papke exceeded the middleweight limit, while Carpenter was under weight. The Frenchman's manager immediately claimed the title of middleweight champion. He said: "The fight will proceed as arranged, but it will not be for the title, which now belongs to Carpenter."

"It was the hardest fight of my career," said Papke, after Carpenter, the idol of the French sporting public, threw up the sponge.

It was evident from the first few rounds that Carpenter was no match for Papke, whose in-fighting tactics completely baffled the Frenchman. But he fought with great pluck and determination. At the end of the eighth round Carpenter's right eye was closed. He fought with a rally after that, and kept away from the American as much as possible.

In the fifteenth the Frenchman came back quite strongly, and in both that round and the sixteenth he gave a good account of himself.

Papke opened the seventeenth with terrific left hook to the jaw, which felled and practically finished the Frenchman. Carpenter gamely got to his feet and managed to drag out the round, but obviously he was unable to continue, and after a brief consultation with his seconds, gave up.

Papke receives $5,000 for his end of the purse, with certain other emoluments. He had to pay a forfeit of $1,000 to Carpenter for overweight.

MILLER HUGGINS

St. Louis, October 23.—(Special)—Miller Huggins, the little second baseman of the Cardinals, is said to be slated to succeed Roger Bresnahan, the departed mogul.

While Mrs. Britton, the Cardinals' owner, has made no official statement, she is known to favor the peppery little keystone guardian.

SNODGRASS WAS FROZEN
WHEN HE MUFFED BALL

Los Angeles, Cal., October 23.—Fred Snodgrass, center fielder for the New York National league team, whose muffed ball aided the Boston American club in winning the world's championship, arrived today to spend the winter. He was accompanied by Art Shaffer, utility infielder of the New York team. Snodgrass will play with the Oxnard team during the winter.

Snodgrass said he was "frozen to the marrow" when his fatal misplay occurred.

"I didn't seem to be able to hold the ball," he said. "It just dropped out of the glove, and that was all there was to it."

He said he was more sorry on Matthews' account than his own.

HARVARD CAPTAIN
MAY HAVE "TIN EAR"

Perry Wendell, Harvard's great plunging halfback and captain, is worrying lest he carry a "tin ear" through life, much after the custom observed by many boxers. He will undergo an operation soon in an effort to remedy this affliction, but it is not certain that the surgery will be successful. If the operation fails, Wendell will be the only player among the colleges sporting a "tin ear."

STOP FUMBLING
HEISMAN'S AIM

He Has Put the Yellow Jackets Through a Hard Week to Eradicate This Evil.

By R. L. Hughes.

Fumbling has been one of the main faults of the Tech Yellow Jackets this season. But for their better fingers they would probably have run up much larger scores against their earlier season opponents.

Realizing that this fault must be eliminated entirely for the light eleven to make a good showing in its November games, Coach Heisman has evolved a novel scheme to eradicate it. He has had erected at the Flats a board background. Each player is given a pickin for a certain time during the day with instructions to hunt it against this board, catching it or the rebound, either on the fly or after it strikes the ground.

Are Improving.

This practice has shown wonderful results, and it is confidently expected that the fumbling will be reduced to a minimum in the game with Florida on Saturday.

This game is not going to be any picnic for the Jackets. They will have to extend themselves to win, the showing of the Floridians against Auburn being such as to make this certain. Too, the game will form a basis of comparison for the Jackets in relation to Auburn.

With the exception of Cook, Loeb and Moore, who have been out of the practices with minor injuries, but who have been on the field every day watch-

Fumbling has been one of the main faults of the Tech Yellow Jackets this season. But for their better fingers they would probably have run up much larger scores against their earlier season opponents.

Realizing that this fault must be eliminated entirely for the light eleven to make a good showing in its November games, Coach Heisman has evolved a novel scheme to eradicate it. He has had erected at the Flats a board background. Each player is given a pickin for a certain time during the day with instructions to hunt it against this board, catching it or the rebound, either on the fly or after it strikes the ground.

This game is not going to be any picnic for the Jackets. They will have to extend themselves to win, the showing of the Floridians against Auburn being such as to make this certain. Too, the game will form a basis of comparison for the Jackets in relation to Auburn.

With the exception of Cook, Loeb and Moore, who have been out of the practices with minor injuries, but who have been on the field every day watching the scrimmages, every player is in grand shape. They will probably get into the game Saturday.

Coach Heisman has been running his men through a stiff signal practice every day on the new players that will be used against Florida. Football men are a unit in declaring that the Tech formations are the most varied of any team in the south this year, but they will be more so from now on, as Coach Heisman adds new plays to their repertoire.

Must Have Tricks.

This is the hope of the Jackets. They must master trick plays, open formations and forward-passing to be able to do anything in their big game, as even in their early games their lack of weight has been a handicap. Every team that they have played has outweighed them and every team they will play for the remainder of the season will outweigh them.

Just what the Tech line-up will be in the Florida game is unknown. It all depends on whether the players now on the injured list can get back. But it will be about as follows: Hutton, left end; Leuhrman or Stegall, left tackle; Montague, left guard; Loeb or Welchel, center; Means, right guard; Colley or Hodges, right tackle; Gore or Moore, right end; McDonald, quarterback; Cook, Thomson or Goebel, left halfback; Fielder, right halfback; Thomson or Leuhrman, fullback.

COMMODORES SCORING WILL BREAK RECORD

The Vanderbilt Commodores have scored more points in the four games they have played this season than they have scored during an entire season, with the exception of two.

In 1904 the Commodores scored 452 points to their opponents' 4. In 1905 they scored 372 to 22. This season they have scored thus far 305 to 2. Looks like it will be a banner year for the McGugin machine.

In this country 14,000 patients have been issued covering the manufacture of shoes and leather goods, and about half of them are now in force.

BIRDMAN KILLED BY SPIRAL GLIDE

Louis Mitchell Loses Control While 600 Feet in Air at Mont. gomery.

Montgomery, Ala., October 23.—Aviator Louis Mitchell, president of the American Aviators, while 600 feet in the air, lost control of his machine while making a spiral glide and is dead.

Mitchell had been circling the exposition grounds for more than an hour at varying heights. Shortly before 5 o'clock he began his descent in a spectacular glide. At 600 feet he lost control of his machine, and at 200 feet the aeroplane went to pieces. Mitchell was pinned to the ground under the heavy motor, dying before surgeons could reach the spot.

Aviator Heth, Mitchell's partner, saw the accident, together with a crowd of 5,000 spectators.

Heth was above Mitchell with a passenger, and was about to descend in a spiral glide, following Mitchell. Mitchell had a start of several minutes, however, and Heth says when Mitchell lost control of his machine he could see the ground between the two planes of the Wright machine.

Mitchell's body will be taken to his home at Camden, Ark., tomorrow morning. His wife, who was present in the grand stand, did not see the

50 CENTS A BURGLARY RATE PAID TO BOYS

New York, October 23.—Fifty cents a burglary is a rate frequently paid to boys by an organized gang of crooks in West Forty-fifth street that employs young boys to do the bulk of its work, according to the testimony of the young operators for the band in a police court today.

Three boys, averaging a dozen years in age, called as witnesses in the case of John Clark, accused of a flat robbery, admitted committing the crime, but said it was instigated by Clark and that a gang known as the "Forty-fifters" furnished many such robberies.

"The Forty-fifters" are all the time getting boys to rob for them," testified 13-year-old Joseph Cook. "They pick out the places to be robbed and put these boys in over transoms and then pay the boys 50 cents or a dollar."

Clark was held in $1,500 bail for examination.

CARR IS INDICTED FOR EXPRESS ROBBERY

Asheville, N. C., October 23.—The grand jury today returned a true bill charging embezzlement against E. F. Carr, the express messenger who was found locked in a chest in his car when it arrived in Asheville one night last August. Carr claimed that a masked bandit boarded his car and at the point of a pistol, forced him to hand over a package of money he was carrying, and get into the chest with him. Carr alleged "third degree" treatment. Carr is said to have told conflicting stories.

BOYS TRY BURLARY WHILE CROWDS WATCH

While crowds surged past them on Decatur street, near the viaduct, two negro youths last night about 9 o'clock attempted one of the most daring burglaries ever frustrated by the police.

A luncheon in a restaurant noticed them prying at the lock of the Cohen jewelry company and noticed police headquarters. Policemen Hood and Wood reached the scene as the daring burglars severed the lock and were jimmying the door open.

The prisoners gave their names as John Thomas, aged 18, of 41 Doves street, and Albert Johnson, of Butler street. They were charged with burglary.

HARRY STEVENS GIANTS' OWNER?

Will Succeed Brush, if Latter
Does Not Recover.

Should John T. Brush, owner of the Giants, fail to recover from the attack of pneumonia, with which he is suffering, Harry M. Stevens, who has the refreshment privileges at the Polo grounds, and who is a warm friend of Brush, is regarded by his logical successor, Stevens is not only a man of capital, but he can command more than he possesses. He has the confidence of men high in baseball circles and would not have to look very far for backers, should he want to purchase the Giants.

Stevens is a self-made man and his rise in the world has been steady. He is shrewd and resourceful, and his very friendship for Brush, which is of the warmest kind, increases the likelihood that sooner or later Stevens will succeed the present owner.

Brush has been confined to his hotel ever since October 8. On that date he witnessed the world's series game at the Polo grounds, and whether he caught cold that developed into ordinary pneumonia or whether it was an embolic or hypostatic pneumonia developed from the fractures and internal injuries he suffered the month before has not been disclosed. However, it is well known that Brush is dangerously ill. One of Brush's close friends stated that he could not see how Brush could recover.

BOSTON'S MAYOR PRAISES MATTY

Writes "Big Six" Letter of Commendation and Admiration of Great Work.

Mayor Fitzgerald, of Boston, is one fan who appreciates merit in ball players.

Recently he addressed to Christy Mathewson, the Giants' great veteran, the following letter:

"Christy Mathewson, New York Giants—Dear Sir: In behalf of every baseball fan hereabouts who saw your splendid work in the series just closed, I desire to express my sincere appreciation and admiration. What you did in that, and what you have done in your long and laudable service for the national game, should be a stimulus for every ball player and for every athlete.

"It was not your good fortune to figure as the pitcher of a winning game for your club, but it was your better fortune to establish yourself still more firmly in the esteem of all who know how much you did in your efforts to avert the inevitable. Boston has been called provincial, but she is not narrow, and her one regret in this hour of triumph is that fate did not permit you, in view of your glorious efforts, to carry out of the series one victory to your credit.

"Yours sincerely,
"JOHN FITZGERALD, Mayor."

BROTHER ACCUSES JACK JOHNSON

Important Evidence Against Negro Pugilist Given the Grand Jury.

Chicago, October 23.—Charles Johnson, brother of "Jack" Johnson, negro pugilist, today told the federal grand jury all he knew regarding the relations of his brother and the white girl, Lucile Cameron, who recently was taken from the negro champion by her mother. Charles Johnson recently was arrested at the instigation of the champion on a charge of theft.

"It is the hand of God, The Lord has taken this fellow in hand and is directing justice at him."

The Cameron girl was not recalled before the grand jury today, as had been expected. Neither was her mother recalled. It is said, however, that Lucile will be one of the main witnesses on Monday, when the investigation is resumed.

The younger Johnson seemed to be enjoying at the opportunity of telling his story. He was in the jury room for nearly two hours. A sister of the champion also appeared at the federal building ready to testify, but she was not called before the jury today.

The only other witness to testify was Joseph Levy, the champion's white secretary.

Mrs. Cameron-Falconnet, mother of the Cameron girl, today said there had been a complete reconciliation between her daughter and herself and that the latter now was willing to disclose her story.

A development of the case was a suit filed against Johnson by Willard Davis, a mulatto, for $25,000 for the alleged alienation of his wife's affections. The wife is said to have been a singer in the champion's cafe and it is reported she was the woman who federal authorities declared shot Johnson in the foot several days ago while in a jealous rage.

Jack Johnson will retire from the saloon business in Chicago on November 1, according to an announcement by city officials today. The saloon license under which he has been operating is owned by a brewery. Johnson's contract to use it expires on November 1, and will not be renewed.

ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF FIXING WITNESSES

Lake Charles, La., October 23.—C. F. Doree, of Portland, Ore.; C. F. Filizno, of San Francisco, and C. H. Edwards, of Merryville, La., are under arrest here tonight charged with attempting to bribe or intimidate a witness for the prosecution in the trial of labor leaders charged with murder in connection with the Grabow labor riot.

A negro named Whitehead, one of three negro witnesses for the state, reported to have been the witness upon whom the alleged attempt to bribe was made. If any others were concerned, their names have not been disclosed.

Doree, who came here at the beginning of the trial, is a member of the Industrial Workers of the World. He is said to have been active in raising funds for defending the accused union men. Filizno, also of the I. W. W., is supposed to have been sent here to cooperate with Doree. Edwards, of Merryville, La., is a butcher at Merryville. Bond for Edwards was fixed at $1,000, which he could not furnish.

Attorneys for the defense are skeptical as to the foundation for the charges.

21 DECATUR LOTS

THESE are the cheapest lots which can be bought in any good location around Atlanta. The average size is 50x200, and the adjacent lots are paved in front of all but four of them, and all but four have sewer and water, also electric lights on the street. These lots are on South Candler street, Davis street and Haddock and Green streets. They commence in about 100 feet of the South Decatur car line, and are within three blocks of Agnes Scott college and four blocks of public school. They are in one of the best sections of the town of Decatur, and can be bought as follows: Davis street lots from $100 to $700; Candler street lots $700, and Haddock street lots $450 and Green street lots $300. Terms, one-fourth cash, balance monthly, with 7 per cent interest. It don't cost any more to go to Decatur than to ride three blocks in the city, the only difference is a little more time, when you get to Decatur you are in a first-class community, with city conveniences, and think of this! You can take one of these lots and put you a nice cottage of 6 rooms on it and get a home for $2,500, whereas a similar neighborhood in Atlanta would cost you twice as much on account of price of lots. If you don't want to build, buy one of these lots for an investment and see how fast it will enhance. Decatur is outgrowing any place of its size in America.

SELLING ORDERS FOR OUR STOCKS

Foreign Holders Caused Precipitate Decline in Prices.
Slight Rally Last Hour.

New York, October 23.—The local stock market was put to another severe test today by recurrent waves of foreign liquidation. The movement gathered momentum after the close of the noon hour, when an avalanche of selling orders from various European sources sent the market on a series of precipitate declines.

Canadian Pacific was the weakest stock in the grade, its price dropping 4 points and giving color to rumors of enforced liquidation by Berlin and London. In the afternoon, the loss of Austrian capital was the scene of some financial unsettlement, but private traders here said there is no way to gauge the extent of the embarrassment, which was hardly more than local.

The meaning here was not altogether reassuring, in view of the better known stocks recording slight losses.

These issues ascending to new high records on rumors that the stock is being bought by the Chinese government. Another incident of the early session interesting because of its bearing upon the steel industry was the announcement that dividends had been resumed on the preferred stock of the Republic Iron and Steel Company, which early in the year had suspended payment because of the unfavorable outlook for the steel industry. Toward the final hour prices recovered in part from the low level, but the market's undertone indicated feverishness and uncertainty with dealings in a restricted volume.

The unfavorable condition of the local market was clearly shown in the asking of time loans, 6 per cent being asked for 90-day accommodations and 10 per cent for 120-day accommodations. Call money held around 5 per cent with some concessions at the Bonds turned heavy with stocks after early steadiness. Total sales, par value, were $1,800,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

GOVERNOR NORTHERN TO TALK ABOUT THE SERVANT PROBLEM

Hon. William J. Northern will address the club women of Georgia this morning on the subject of the servant problem, and some ways to solve it. His address will be at 9:30 o'clock.

CLUB WOMEN TOLD DRIVEWAY SOUGHT BY SOUTHSIDERS

Agriculture. She mentioned the earnestness of the work among the girls; what it meant as bringing a new interest into their lives, and how they carried the interest into the rural home. The afternoon session carried the reports of the forty new clubs in the federation.

The Mother Club Entertains.
At 1 o'clock the entire delegation to the state federation, numbering over two hundred, the officers and members of the executive board, and many visitors were entertained at luncheon at the Auditorium by the members of the Atlanta Woman's club.

In the center of the room was a square table, at which were seated the president of the general federation, the president of the Georgia federation, the ex-presidents of the state federation, the ex-presidents of the Atlanta Woman's club, and women otherwise distinguished in club work.

In the absence of the president of the Atlanta Woman's club, Mrs. A. P. Coles, Mrs. McGovern presided, and Mrs. Bolling Jones was toastmaster. Mrs. J. K. O'Leary responded to the toast, "The Atlanta Woman's Club, the Mother of the Federation." Her clear, sweet voice rang out a greeting which met enthusiastic applause; but she could not stand in a chair, which she did, and made a talk—the gem of the day's program.

Mrs. E. G. McCabe was tender and impressive in her calling of the roll of club presidents, each state president, city federation president, and club president responding to her name, except that beautiful and earnest woman, the late Mrs. Robert Emory Pack, to whom affectionate tribute was paid. Mrs. Bolling Jones responded to the toast, "The Clubhouse." Mrs. Eugene Heard to the toast, "The State Federation of Women's Clubs." Mrs. White, to "Our Distinguished Guests," Mrs. Pattillo, to "The City Federation," Mrs. Pennybacker, to "The General Federation," and Mrs. Charles J. Haden, to "The Hostess Organization." There was music during the luncheon, which was a most delightful occasion.

Will Answer Questions.
Mrs. Percy Pennybacker will be present at the morning session today for a question box. Any club woman who desires to ask information of the state federation, or put it on the president's desk, when Mrs. Pennybacker will get it, and in her informal address reply.

The woman's exposition will continue today, the exhibits being in Taft hall, and commanding the greatest interest.

The City Federation of Women's Clubs will entertain the visiting delegates at luncheon today.

A Successful Occasion.
The luncheon given yesterday by the Atlanta Woman's club was arranged by the Joseph H. Sherman chapter, D. A. R., under the auspices of their restaurant, which they are operating to secure funds for the building of their chapter house. The three hundred women were beautifully served, forty-five of Atlanta's most attractive young women graciously contributing their services as waitresses.

Taft Names a Negro.
Washington, October 23.—(Special.) Adams, of Chicago, the negro assistant register of the treasury, resigned today to become connected with the republican campaign headquarters in New York. President Taft has appointed J. P. Strickland, a negro, of Arkansas, to succeed Adams. Strickland was recommended by General Powell Clayton, national committee man from Arkansas.

NEW BLUE RIDGE BRIDGE OPENED FOR TRAFFIC

Anderson, S. C., October 23.—The first train over the new Blue Ridge bridge over the Blue Ridge railway, replacing the famous wooden structure spanning Six and Twenty creek, which was burned on July 25, was run today, at the line between Anderson and Walhalla. Since the burning of the bridge it has been necessary for all passengers to transfer. The new bridge is a splendid structure, built on the most modern lines and of the best quality of steel throughout. The old bridge was one of the highest wooden bridges in the world, spanning a chasm 118 feet deep and though a great part of its material had been renewed at the time it was burned, it stood just as it did when the road was opened before the civil war. With the completion of the new bridge the full service of the Blue Ridge railway has been restored.

Witnesses Jailed.

Huntsville, Ala., October 23.—(Special.)—Ed Splice and Tom Mason, both well-known soft drink men of this city, were sent to jail yesterday afternoon for refusing to answer questions asked them by the present grand jury. The foreman of the jury has declared the men shall remain in jail until they decide to talk.

Waterworks Changes Hands.

Columbus, Ga., October 23.—(Special.)—The trustees of the Columbus Waterworks company today formally transferred the company's property to the Columbus Water Supply company, a new company, organized by Birmingham capitalists. The waterworks system will be enlarged and improved.

HE CAN BE ENGLISH LORD BUT DOESN'T WANT JOB

Minneapolis, October 23.—That if he chooses, some day he may inherit the estate and title of Lord Manchester, master of an English estate, was the statement today of Edmund Pennington, president of the Soo lines. President Pennington said, however, that he would not attempt to obtain the title, but would remain an American. The story became known today on receipt of a dispatch, stating that Lord Manchester was searching for the descendants of a branch of the family which came to America many years ago and asking concerning Mr. Pennington's ancestors. "I have known about this for years," said Mr. Pennington today. "My niece has visited the estate of Lord Manchester and members of my family tell me that there is no doubt that I am the legal heir to the title and estate. I am not, however, interested in investigating the matter, nor in communicating with Lord Manchester. I have received letters from England about the matter and so has my brother in Texas."

FOR THE LAND'S SAKE

That 50-acre place which we are offering on Candler street for $15,000 is not farm property; it lies just south of Decatur, in the direction of East Lake. The sewer and water systems of Decatur are in a stone's throw, and a strong movement is under way which will lead to the paving of Candler street.

This land is almost on the verge of being city property, streets in different subdivisions are all around it, pointing towards it, ready to be carried right on through. It is a good place to buy and let alone just a little while. You should buy it for the land's sake. Easy terms.

FATHER OF 23 CHILDREN MARRIED ONLY 17 YEARS

Albany, Ga., October 23.—(Special.)—A case believed to be unprecedented in Georgia was brought to light in the United States court here today, when Albert Cowart, a Miller county negro, entered a plea of guilty in answer to a charge of illicit distilling. In answer to questions of Judge Grubb it developed that Cowart has been married seventeen years and that during that time twenty-three children have been born to him and his wife. Eighteen of these are living, the youngest being 8 days old.

The facts as brought out by Judge Grubb were verified by reputable Miller county citizens present. Judge Grubb said to the prisoner: "I sentence you to go back home and care for those eighteen children. That is the worst punishment I have it in my power to impose."

"PRINCE OF PASTORS" DIES WHILE TALKING

Utica, N. Y., October 23.—After outlining some of his experience in thirty years of preaching the gospel and reiterating his love of the service, the Rev. Jabez Ford of Camden, died in the presence of 1,000 delegates to the Baptist state convention in Tabernacle church here today.

The convention was discussing conditions of the church and Mr. Ford, who is known as the "prince of Okeola county Baptist pastors," was heard with interest in a somewhat spirited address. He had just completed his remarks when he was stricken and died before medical aid could be given him. He was 71 years old.
